THE PAPYOGRAPH

IS AN EXTRAORDINARY INVENTION FOR printing copies by the thousands from a single autograph writing or drawing. From one writing by this process a thousand permanent fac-similes—impressions of circulars, price lists, specifications, examination papers, assessment notices, etc., may be printed in an ordinary copying press, upon any description of paper. Copies may be taken direct from the writing without any of the usual operations of inking, rolling, transferring or typesetting. A proof impression may be produced within five minutes after a manuscript has been completed, and be afterwards multiplied at the rate of five hundred an hour, at a trifling cost.

One Thousand Copies

May be produced from a single sheet of Papyograph Paper, and a single application of ink at an expense of four cents. It possesses overpowering the advantages of an Autograph Letter, besides admitting of illustrations without the expense of wood cuts. It allows autograph letters to pass through the mail as third class matter. It is invaluable to any business. It can be seen in operation at the office of the agent for Oregon.

GENERAL NEWS.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.)

Gov. Tilden Airs his Grievance.

NEW YORK, June 12.—At the Manhattan Club reception, Governor Tilden said:

Everybody knows that after the recent election the men who were elected by the people President and Vice President of the United States were counted out, and the men who were not elected counted in, and seated. I proclaim any such counting in and seating involved in this transaction. Not by any act or word of mine shall that fraud be covered up or degraded into a personal grievance. Its truth is the greatest wrong that has ever cursed our national annals. To every man of the one and a quarter millions, who are defrauded of one and a quarter millions of their elective franchise, it is a great deal more than a personal wrong. It is a blow at the very life of popular government. It is a blow at the very life of popular government, and made so odious that no party will attempt a repeal for all time. All Democrats must see that free governments are once more restored to the states of Louisiana and South Carolina, or else all the good fruits that must follow will be lost. They know that in the language of Gov. Hayes, had become inevitable. For years the Democrats had contended in Congress and before the people for free republican States throughout the whole country. Finally it became inevitable, because with the Democratic party 40,000 strong to be forever suppressed.

Parties Present.

Among the assemblage present were David Dale Field, Judge Donohue, Augustus Schell, Benj. Wood, Chief Justices Curtis and Daly, and a number of other prominent citizens. The proceedings terminated with hearty cheers for Governor Tilden, Senator McDonald and others.

NEW YORK, June 13, 1877.

JOHN D. TOWNSEND, Esq.—Dear Herewith I return to you the statement of testimony which you assert that Wm. M. Tweed could give if he were released from imprisonment. After careful consideration I have come to the conclusion that the testimony which said Tweed could give, as shown by said statement, would not justify his release.

CHAS. S. FAIRCHILD, Att'y Gen.

Townsend, with Tweed's assent, will present all the facts in the case to the public in a few days.

Tyrrel and his Pals.

Because of the action of the district attorney it is now thought Tweed will not be released at present. Harry Genet of the Tweedring has arrived in town. It is rumored, according to the Times, that Richard B. Connolly will be extradited. It is probable he is now in England.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Has Changed his Views.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—President Hayes, although in former years predisposed, like many other hard money men, to adhere to the prevalent doctrines of financial writers in favor of a single gold standard, has materially changed his views regarding the wisdom and propriety of the act of 1873, which demonetized the old legal tender silver dollar. He is now in favor of its remonetization and of the re-adoption of the double standard of gold and silver. He favors full return to the condition of things in relation to these subjects which existed previous to the legislation of 1873, being convinced that such return to the former system will greatly promote the resumption of specie payments, an object that he regards as of first importance. While, however, he considers legislation of 1873 hasty and uncalled for legislation with the legal tender powers of a large portion of our circulation, he has not yet formed any determination to bring the subject officially to the attention of Congress, although it is by no means improbable he may hereafter conclude that some recommendations of the nature above outlined will be advisable.

Hayes a Silver Man.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Your correspondent has authority for stating that he is in favor of remonetization of the old silver dollar and adoption of the double standard as the best means of returning to specie payments, but has not determined to make any recommendations to Congress to this effect.

Small Greenbacks.

The books of the Treasury Department show a total amount of $1 and $2 notes in circulation to be $51,404,511. The amount of such notes in the Treasury office and reserved for use is $10,884,387.

Appointments and Promotions.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—E. S. Nadal, formerly second secretary of the U. S. legation at London, was to-day appointed to again fill that position. Robt. Clayton, heretofore vice consul at Callao has been promoted to be a commercial agent and placed in charge of that consulate. No consulates worth more than $2,000 a year now remain vacant, all vacancies in higher grades having been filled by promotions. The department intends to fill all or nearly all such vacancies as may hereafter occur by additional promotions from the lower grades.

For West Point.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Secretary of War and Gen. Sherman left to-day for West Point.

Interviewing Devens.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Contending factions of the Republican party in Alabama called upon Attorney General Devens to-day.

Brigham Young Called to Account.

The Attorney General has called upon accounting officers of the Treasury for a copy of the accounts of Brigham Young, Mormon leader, filed in the Treasury some twenty years ago, when he was Indian agent, appointed by the government. These accounts are called for at the request of Howard, U. S. attorney for Utah, who will examine them carefully in connection with the Attorney General. It is intimated that they will furnish important testimony against Brigham Young, and upon them a prosecution will be based for various illegal acts committed by him while acting as Indian Agent.

Appointments.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The chief of land division of the Indian bureau has been temporarily assigned to duty as chief clerk of the bureau.

Charles Joseph has been appointed revenue store keeper of Cincinnati district and Albert Stanley gauger of the same district.

A Share of Public Patronage.

A delegation of colored people from Louisiana had two very satisfactory interviews with the President and called on Secretary Sherman this morning. The secretary was asked whether he thought one-third of the patronage was too much for the colored people. He replied that if men of integrity and intelligence were chosen he thought they were entitled to a fair share of patronage, and further remarked he would write to Collector King at New Orleans upon the subject.

Alabama Politics.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—A delegation from Alabama called to-day on Attorney-General Devens regarding the marshalship and attorney-generalship of that State, and were advised to reconcile their differences and agree upon proper appointments.

Summering.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Secretary Schurz to-day accompanied his family to Summit, N. J., where the family will remain during the summer.

A Political Necessity.

Secretary Sherman has informed Talbot, Solicitor of the Treasury, that he would like to have his resignation, as political necessity required that his office should be given to another person. The Secretary said it was probable that other resignations would be asked. Talbot immediately complied with the Secretary's request and tendered his resignation, to take effect July 1st. Assistant Solicitor Robinson is in New York attending to his duties as a member of the custom house commission. So the solicitor's office is without a head.

Navy Yard Reforms.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The Times' Washington correspondent says: Toward the latter part of the month the Secretary of the Navy will go to Boston and Portsmouth. Secretary Thompson stated after the 1st of July, when the appropriation for the next fiscal year comes under his charge for disbursement, he intends to introduce many reforms, and will not allow political influences to supersede mechanical skill as a means of securing work in the yards, nor will he allow the yards to be padded at election times for the benefit of assigning politicians. Inspection at the present time is for the purpose of ascertaining the condition of yards, amount of material on hand, and where the different various kinds of work can be performed when desired.

Chinese Immigration.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Bailey, U. S. consulate at Hongkong, China, reports to the Department of State that the number of Chinese who left that port for the United States during the year ended December 31, 1876 was 5,34 less than that of the previous year, and that only 52 of the emigrants were women; showing that the act of March 3, 1875, has been vigorously enforced. Of steamers leaving that port during the year, over 83 per cent. were British, and less than one per cent. under the flag of the United States.

Minions of the Law after Brigham Young.

The World's Washington says United States district attorney Howard of Utah left for Salt Lake after a full understanding with the President and attorney general, and with assurances that he will be supported in the prosecution of Brigham Young on any competent evidence implicating him in the Mountain Meadows Massacre. He has also been directed to prosecute the Prophet on a charge of misapplication of government funds while he was Indian agent, provided the alleged crime is not barred. Papers on file in the comptroller's office covering his disbursements were supplied to the attorney general to-day and certified copies will be forwarded to Utah.

Iowa Politics.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Senator Allison, who has just arrived here from Iowa, says there is every probability of a stormy time in the Republican State convention there, which will meet on the 28th inst. He does not believe any resolution, condemning the administration for its Southern policy, will be adopted. Such a resolution would, however, be offered and vigorously advocated. It is the Senator's opinion that the platform will contain no allusion to this policy.

Government Advertising Refused.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Nearly all the papers which usually publish war department advertisements have refused them at the rates fixed by the department, and probably the Department of Justice will consider the matter again.

Consuls Appointed.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Robert T. Clayton, of Georgia, has been appointed consul to Calais, and John F. Quarles, of Georgia, consul at Malaga.

SOUTH AMERICA.

The Earthquake Sinking Ships.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Capt. Chas. MacLeoon of the ship Geneva, sunk at Huanillos in the great earthquake on the Pacific coast on the 9th ult., has arrived. He says his ship became entangled with others near as they tossed wildly about, crushing against each other, sinking almost immediately in 15 fathoms of water. On the first alarm he came up from between decks. It was about half-past 8 o'clock P. M. There had been several shocks in the previous twenty days, but he had finished his cargo of guano and was expecting to sail next morning. Aside from the frightful rumbling sound his attention was arrested by the extraordinary phenomena of the mountain above being so much agitated that great rocks became detached and rolled down toward the sea, resembling balls of fire. The water at the anchorage suddenly receded so that ships in 18 fathoms touched bottom. The Geneva too swung round at the rate of 8 or ten knots an hour, in great circles, until she struck against a rock that tore out part of her bottom. The ship was forced violently in an opposite direction and went down. Other vessels were as violently driven ashore. Capt. McLeoon says it seemed to him from the sulphurous or electrical appearance of the mountain that the volcano was bursting out of its sides. Rocks were tumbling about with frightful noise and everything was lighted up. He thinks the damage to shipping was caused not so much by the tidal wave as by the upward rush of water and rotary currents, driving the ships repeatedly against each other.

The stockholders of the Oregon and Washington Fish Propagation Company held their first meeting at the Occident Hotel in Astoria, on Monday evening. The directors chosen for the ensuing year are J. W. Cooke, J. G. Megler, John Adair, Jr., John West and C. H. Lewis. The capital stock is $30,000, of which $20,000 has been subscribed.

A letter from Baker City gives the following mining intelligence: "I have visited the placers all along the western slope of Powder river valley. Daniel Best, on Ruan Gulch, is doing extremely well. He has made one clean up, and shows a piece of gold worth $40. The balance he declines to tell; but he is building a dwelling for his family and making other improvements, so no doubt he has rich ground. An old lake deposit exists all along the slope, of Powder valley. Nelson's, Bulger's and Baisley's claims, near Best's, promise rich results; Baisley's richest of all."

THE WAR IN THE EAST.

Servian War News.

VIENNA, June 12.—Ten thousand Servians are concentrated at Belgrade and five thousand at Kragujevatz. The permanent committee of the skuptschina propose to reduce salaries of employes thirty per cent. to cover expenses for armaments. Kragujevatz arsenal is working night and day. A Servian demonstration in the direction of Insch is probable, with the object of drawing off Mehemet Ali from Montenegro.

Confiscated Torpedoes.

A large number of torpedoes which have been manufactured at Plume for Toulon have been confiscated by the Italian customs officers at Corrona.

Protest against Turkish Barbarities.

VIENNA, June 12.—Report state that the Roumanian government has addressed a note to the powers, protesting against the barbarous acts of the Turks, and stating if the powers don't intervene to prevent these depredations Roumania will be compelled to carry the war into Turkey.

Uneasy About Greece.

The Porte is uneasy regarding Greece. Safvet Pasha has questioned the Greek minister at Constantinople concerning the intentions of the new coalition cabinet. The minister's reply is not very reassuring. He said he had no knowledge of any hostile intention, and did not believe preparations were being made with any other object than preparing for all eventualities, but that if Greece finds herself drawn into the struggle she would act openly.

The latter part of the answer referred to apprehensions expressed by Safvet Pasha lest Greece should send bands into Thessaly.

Invasion of Wassajevic.

OSTROK, June 12.—The invasion of Wassajevic by Turks is making progress, the Montenegrin forces there being only three battalions and the Turks having 15 battalions of regulars advancing via Berain from the Servian frontier, and a body of irregulars coming from Gusinje. It is rumored they intend passing by the way of Brobniak to assist in the relief of Nicsic.

Turkish Loss at Kratz.

The total losses of Suleiman Pasha at Krstaz are estimated at 14,000.

Reception of Gortschakoff's Letter.

VIENNA, June 12.—Prince Gortschakoff's letter has been officially communicated to the other cabinets. It seems it has not given such complete satisfaction as was expected. The wording on points relative to Constantinople and the Dardanelles has not been found quite so clear and precise as to exclude ambiguous rendering and yet at rest any doubts such as may have prompted the British government to draw up the well known category stated by Mr. Cross. It seems to have struck the British government that though Russia associates she does not covet possession of Constantinople. Still no assurance is given that that city will not eventually be drawn into the range of military operations, and consequently at any rate be temporarily occupied by Russians. The essence of the question is left unanswered, for whether Russia does or does not covet Constantinople seems comparatively immaterial. The important thing for the localization of the war is that Russia should not seize it. The assurance that the Dardanelles must always be regulated by international agreement also does not touch the issue which the British government seems to have had in view, namely, a convention closing the straits to all foreign men-of-war the nullification of which Russia may well be assumed to aim at. It seems also that the assurances that Russia has no intention to monopolize the settlement of the Eastern question, are deemed more vague than they might have been, as they don't state whether the powers will be consulted before or after settlement. Other points in the Prince's letter are not deemed quite satisfactory by the British government and may possibly give rise to a further exchange of ideas between it and Russia.

A Ruler for Bulgaria.

VIENNA, June 13.—At Bucharest the Duke of Leuchtenburg is openly mentioned as intended ruler of Bulgaria.

Turks Invade Russia.

LONDON, June 13.—A Turkish detachment has entered the Russian district of Achalkh and threatens Russian communication with Ardahah. Should the Turkish commander succeed, victualing the Russian armies will be very difficult.

Russian Retreat.

On the approach of three flying columns sent by Mukhtar Pasha against the Russian right wing, the Russians not only evacuated Olti but Penuck at the foot of the pass of the Kanlay range leading to Ardshar. Both Olti and Penuck were reoccupied by the Turks who also went in pursuit of the Russians.

Protesting against Peace.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The Tribune's Bucharest correspondent has seen a private letter from a high Russian official at St. Petersburg to one of the Grand Duke's staff, protesting earnestly and with great bitterness against the idea that the Czar will make peace and evacuate Roumania. He considers it an ignominy which the Russian people would not tolerate, and adds that the Czar, before he left the capital, personally informed the writer that Russia's new era of conquest had begun.

Derby and Salisbury on the War.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The Tribune's London special says the speech of Derby and Salisbury last night caused much interest. Derby's views can hardly be gathered from his speech, but his feeling is doubtlessly inclined rather toward peace than war. The war party's sole and constant argument is that England cannot remain quiet, now that her commercial interests are threatened. A division of the country into two new parties on war issues is not improbable. The Radicals present a determined front and are outspoken, but cannot prevail in Parliament at present.

Confiscated Powder.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 13.—A vessel which was about to discharge a cargo of 150 barrels of powder at Crete has been captured by Turkish war-vessels.

Allowed to be Praised.

The Tribune's Constantinople special says the Sultan has ordered special praise services at St. Sophia on account of the news of the Turkish recapture of Olti, and defeat at Pennack of the Russians. Foreigners distrust the news. The above is not from the immediate scene of operations, and previous dispatches stated the Russians were withdrawing in the direction of Erzeroum in order to prosecute the siege of Kars, reduce it, and keep the rear from attack, and also that Grand Duke Michael, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies in Asia, commenced personally to reconnoiter Kars.

Turkish Commandants.

Moustapha Tewfice Pasha has been appointed commandant of Kars.

Dervish Pasha has arrived here from Salonica to take command of the Batoum division of the Turkish army.

English and American Captains.

Of the captains of Russian torpedo boats recently sunk at Salina, mention is made of one an Englishman and the other an American, have been placed on Turkish vessels at Ismalia and are expected to-day at Constantinople.

Odessa in Danger.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Hobart Pasha has been ordered to bombard Odessa.

Russian Financial Measure.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 13.—An imperial ukase, dated Ploiesti, June 7th, is promulgated to-day empowering the finance minister to issue a foreign 5 per cent. loan of $75,000,000, in bonds of $100 each, payable to bearer and redeemable by annual drawings at the rate of 1 per cent. of nominal capital, for which a special fund will be provided.

General War Notes.

LONDON, June 12.—There is almost an utter absence of news of interest either from Asia, the Danube or Montenegro. The two armies on the Danube are watching one another, and cannonading is frequent, but the Russians have not disclosed their intentions. The Turkish report of the Russian attempt on Saturday to cross at Rutschuk is not worthy of attention, as the attempt certainly was not serious. The St. Petersburg telegram says it was merely the cannonading of sappers working at Giurgevo.

From Asia there is nothing later than the evacuating of Olti. The Russians at Pera number 4,000 men and nine guns, while the Turkish corps which reoccupied Olti consisted of six battalions, two batteries and a thousand cavalry. Russian and Turkish accounts agree that cannonading at Kars is ineffectual and indecisive.

LONDON, June 13.—Desultory firing is reported from batteries on the Danube.

The Turks at Kars have made several sorties but were repulsed with loss.

The Servian government continues warlike preparations. A battery is being completed near the capital.

A rupture between the Porte and Greece is considered inevitable.

The new Russian international loan of fifty millions is to be issued immediately.

Atlantic Cable Affairs.

LONDON, June 12.—The Directors of the direct U. S. Cable Co. announce that they have decided to wind up the present Company and form another with the same name. The object of the wind up is to annul the working agreement with the Anglo American Cable Co., to be made effective. The principal heads of the agreement are: The agreement to remain in force for 50 years from May 1, 1877, with power to either Company to terminate it at the end of 25 years; actual receipts after deducting certain charges to go to net account, of which 75 per cent. is to belong to the Anglo-American and 25 per cent. to the direct company. In case of interruption to either line for more than one year these proportions are to be modified, and in case of total interruption for more than 30 consecutive months the agreement to be terminable by notice. An allowance at the rate of £7,000 a year is to be made by the direct company out of their receipts to the Anglo-American Company during such time as the Anglo American Company shall keep two or more cables in working order.

LONDON, June 12.—American meat has been selling at 3 pence per pound, and 6 pence for best, since Saturday, caused by sudden heat.

ROME, June 12.—The Pope has received Vicar Apostolic Moreno of California, who, in the name of Upper and Lower California, presented His Holiness with 45,000 francs.

Grand Duke Dead.

DARMSTADT, June 13.—Grand Duke of Hesse is dead.

Cable Co.'s Affairs.

LONDON, June 13.—An extraordinary meeting of the direct U. S. Cable Co. is to be held June 26th, when a resolution for winding up the company, etc., will be presented, and if adopted, will be confirmed at the second extraordinary meeting.

LONDON, June 13.—Accounts from Tripoli and Bombay state that an area of 100 miles has been devastated by locusts. Crops are entirely destroyed and a famine is believed to be imminent.

Dom Pedro in England.

LONDON, June 13.—The Emperor and Empress of Brazil have arrived.

French Politics.

PARIS, June 13.—M. Gambetta has relinquished the idea of calling a plenary meeting of the sections of the Left before the reassembling of the chambers, the Left having already agreed upon its line of action sufficiently to dispense with preliminary discussion.

Students Must not be Politicians.

PARIS, June 13.—The minister of instruction has decided that any student participating in any political manifestation shall be immediately expelled from college.

Gambetta's Interpellation.

It is stated that the government will declare its readiness to discuss the interpellation to be brought forward by M. Gambetta at the reopening of the Chamber. The Left has decided that Republican Senators shall abstain from voting on the question of dissolution, so as to leave the entire responsibility to the Right and the government.

Holland Election.

AMSTERDAM, June 13.—The biennial election of half the members of the second chamber, to replace those retiring by rotation, resulted in the return of all Liberals.

Something like the following was asserted by the Idaho Statesman, and now the Walla Walla Union gives it editorial endorsement: "The impression prevails here with a majority of our citizens that Lewis put up this little job (forged resignation) himself, as all kind of a sympathetic dodge, and to forestall the action of a movement on the Sound against him."

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 14, 1877.

PROMISE AND PERFORMANCE.

Other parts of the United States are receiving instruction and discipline in the same peculiar sort of civil service reform which the administration has been practicing in Oregon. The President's professions are fine. Iteration adds to their value. Hardly a week passes which is not distinguished by delivery to the country of some very proper sentiments on the subject. These utterances the whole people greatly admire. They appreciate the importance of having an executive who talks so sturdily for the divorcement of the civil service from political patronage and partisan influence. It is a very agreeable thing to hear so frequently, and from so eminent a source, that it is all wrong to use the public service to reward the adherents of party, or to subserve partisan ends. It is delightful also to have an authoritative declaration every few days to the effect that men in office are expected to perform only official duty; that they are not to be removed on political or partisan grounds; that the voice of "influence" will be unheeded at the White House, and that the duty of the Executive is to be President of the United States and not the promoter or guardian of the interests of any political party. The public ear is attent to sound doctines like these; but there is some reason to fear the country will grow weary with hearing them before it sees them enforced.

Recent appointments for Oregon, brought about in the old way, showed, indeed, that reform, though talking from a distance with sweetest words, had not yet put in an actual appearance in our State. But impatience was suppressed, because it was remembered that Oregon is so remote as to be beyond reach of the genial influences that were to prevail nearer the seat of government. At this distance people must not be unreasonable, but should content themselves with the telephone of reform. It may be feared, however, that public patience will be a little shaken by recent transactions elsewhere. Louisiana and Alabama in some respects are more important States than Oregon, and are not so distant from Washington. Reform that talks so grandly at the capital ought to have vigor enough to exert an influence as far as Mobile and New Orleans. But Pitkin is removed in order to pay Wharton for services rendered in settling the Louisiana squabble in favor of the Nicholls government, and nearly the whole list of officials in Alabama is changed in the interest of those whom the President "considers the Union-Republicans of the State,"—the avowed object being to build up an administration party. It must be confessed that all this doesn't look as if it were the intention to take the federal offices out of politics. If the President should turn back to the letter in which he accepted the Cincinnati nomination, or reread his inaugural address, it would puzzle him to find arguments to support his removals and appointments in Alabama and Louisiana. An administration party in those States would be a good thing, no doubt; but better methods of civil service, which it is one of the avowed objects of the administration to enforce, will hardly be promoted by a course of intrigue, through which officials are arbitrarily changed in order to accomplish partisan objects.

We do not forget that sound measures for the improvement of the public service have been put in force in Philadelphia and New York. It is a memorable fact, too, that in many instances the President has resisted the approach of partisan influence in matters relating to his official action. In general there is an improved tone in the public service under the present administration. Credit must be given for it. But it unfortunately happens that whenever anything relating to matters at the South comes to the front it is managed in such a way as to suggest at once that certain Ohio politicians who are the President's closest friends and advisers promised things that must be performed in order that faith may be kept. When the Southern subsidy schemes come up we shall have the real touchstone of the business. Criticism, if it would be impartial, must await that event before it pronounces a judgment.

THE LATE CANDIDATE.

Mr. Tilden is no longer able to suppress his emotions. He must unpack his heart with words. But he has a glimmering consciousness that it is not seemly to parade his disappointments, and that what he says will be interpreted as an utterance of his griefs. He begins, therefore, by saying that he entertains no sense of personal wrong, but that it is the greatest of misfortunes to the country that he is not President. There is no excess of modesty in putting the case in this way. Mr. Tilden says the decision was a "fraudulent" one. How was that decision reached? Through a law solemnly enacted. The power having sole authority to prescribe the manner in which the electoral vote should be counted created the Commission which decided in a perfectly lawful way in favor of Hayes and Wheeler. A majority of Republicans opposed this method; a majority of Democrats supported it. The plan was, in fact, a Democratic one. A result was reached which neither party could foresee. Had it gone for Tilden and Hendricks all Republicans would have acquiesced, and Hayes and Wheeler would not be loading the air with complaints,—even though they know that a third of the colored vote of the South was crushed in order that majorities might be counted for the men who are so indignant because their supporters were "defrauded of the fruits of their elective franchise.

No, Mr. Tilden; this is not "the greatest wrong that has stained our national annals." Were it as grave as it is asserted to be, still it were then insignificant in wickedness compared with the effort made by a party in 1861 to destroy the national government because it had lost an election. It was also a greater wrong to have carried Mississippi, South Carolina and other States in 1876 by organized violence, intimidation and murder. It was notoriously by such means that Mr. Tilden gained the numerical majority he boasts of. Were it true that the returning board of Louisiana wrongfully certified the result, the crime was a trifling one compared with the record of blood and violence in Mississippi, by which the honest vote of that State was reversed.

The man who could not find a tongue to speak for his country when it was in the agony of an effort to defend its very existence can now talk in doleful strain of the peril it is in because the electoral commission did not decide in his favor. It is in bad taste for the late candidate to show his wounds. Unfortunate also is his allusion to the Tweed government of New York. It had, he says, "conquered or bribed or flattered, and won almost everybody into acquiescence." Among those thus won was Samuel J. Tilden, whom honest Horace Greeley implored in vain to quit the political fellowship of Tweed. But Mr. Tilden continued his "acquiesence" until the assaults made by others on that "corrupt dynasty" made its fall inevitable. Then after the battle was fought he became a reformer. These are not new facts; but it is proper to recall them on occasions when Mr. Tilden assumes such show of virtue and declaims so feelingly against frauds in politics.

SHERMAN ON SILVER.

Secretary Sherman has been elaborating his views on the silver question. They are essentially sound. His statements appear to have been carefully considered. Long acquaintance with the principles of finance and close attention to the financial history of the United States during an extended service as chairman of the finance committee of the Senate, give a value to his judgments on this subject; and it would seem that he has hit the proper mean between two extremes of opinion. It would hardly do now to propose seriously that silver shall be made an unlimited legal tender. Nor, on the other hand, should a policy be adopted that would banish it altogether. The true place and real use of silver as money is to furnish a subsidiary coin. Gold is the recognized standard, but there is room and necessity for the use of silver in small sums, and nothing else can well replace it. It is not unlikely that in Ohio, where financial vagaries have an unusual hold, both parties may declare for silver as the standard,—each trying to outdo the other. This is the way in which they proceeded with the greenback notion, now so generally exploded. It is evident that Sherman takes great interest in the subject on account of its political bearings. His statements are manifestly put forth at this time in the hope of reconciling conflicting views among members of his party in Ohio and elsewhere.

FRENCH POLITICS.

It is altogether impossible to get any accurate view through meagre telegraphic statements of the causes which are producing the present disturbances in French politics. Correspondents of English and American newspapers, trained by experience to familiarity with the intricacies of affairs in France, find difficulty in making readers understand the involutions and complications of politics under the present government. We select, however, from correspondence of the New York Tribune certain statements that throw light on the situation. The writer speaks thus of the MacMahon coup d' etat:

I presume there can be no need to state that the insane act committed by Marshal McMahon was planned and directed by the ultramontanes. They have been the plotters, but their combination rests upon what they believe to be the universal floating hatred of all the conservative classes in France against the republic; it is perhaps here that may lie the great mistake, and in this very misapprehension of facts will be found a relative safety.

We are, at the present moment, in France, and have been for many years, in the agonies of two crises; one is special to France, the other is common to the French and to every other European nation since the days of Rousseau and Voltaire. This last is, namely, the struggle between superstition and free thought; the struggle special to France only is that which is going on between the absolutely exhausted upper or so-called governing classes and the entire mass of the country itself. It is because they feel the shadow of the future growing over them, and because they begin to hear the heavy footfall of advancing time, that the condemned of all denominations rise to wild revolt, and from time to time seem to fight together for the same cause; but the shades of their creed are different.

Two currents surged up the day after Marshal Moltke's speech in Berlin; one, the energetic resolve to maintain peace by a political understanding with Germany (such an understanding being practicable); the other a wild, insane desire to provoke an ultramontane crusade and unite all the Catholic forces against Italy and Bismarck! It was a declaration with government sanction, of the actual policy of France. This hastened the crisis. The large portion of what I would call the vulgar Catholicism of France demands a new papal crusade. But, on the other hand, the overwhelming majority of the country is determined upon peace, and will, under no pretext, be dragged into a war with Bismarck, and find itself exposed to a second invasion.

HORRIBLE PLAINNESS.

Gov. Stone, of Mississippi, is pursued with much criticism and reproach on account of his supposed indifference to the Kemper county murders. But suppose he were energetic as any executive could be, what could he accomplish against a public sentiment which is interpreted with the horrible plainness that characterizes the following from the Meridian (Miss.) Mercury? The paper is published in the county next adjoining Kemper:

April 20, in DeKalb, never ought to be investigated, and if wisdom and statesmanship prevail, never will be. On that day the higher law, which antedates common law and all other law, ousted them and all their ministers of jurisdiction, and for a brief period of time sufficient to its purpose, held sway. Its judgments were final. No court is competent to disturb them. Every attempt to review them will be both futile and mischievous.

Postal agent Steel informs us that until Tuesday last he was not aware that an order had been issued at Washington to send third-class mail matter from California to Oregon by steamer. He thinks the order was made on the recommendation of Baily, an officer of the department who was here a few weeks ago and returned to Washington. Also that it was probably not the intention to exclude the newspapers from the overland mail, but only packages of merchandise with which the bags are often overloaded. The order, however, is a sweeping one, and excludes all but first-class matter. Daily papers from the East and California are worthless by the time they reach Oregon. It is well enough to send packages of merchandise, passing through the mails, by steamer to Portland; but the stage company have gone much further in their demand and secured a better thing. They have only the letter pouches to carry, and these are of trifling weight. Fine opportunity is therefore afforded for the transportation of passengers.

Several newspapers speak in favor of a modification of the Northern Pacific land grant, so as to give the company the proceeds of the sale of lands rather than the lands in fee. Suppose the business were transacted and the money paid through the government land offices, would not the arrangement be a fair one both for the settler and the company? Sales of lands would probably build the road through Montana and Idaho to the Columbia river.

As the instance of Senator Stanley Matthews the resignation of certain officials has been requested, in order to make room for his own political favorites. The Pittsburg Leader speaks of the case of Capt. Devenney, holding an important office which he has filled worthily, who has been "notified," on the ground that the place is wanted for one Farenbach, of Cleveland. And the Leader falls to quoting Hayes' letter of acceptance with a pathetic vigor.

General Grant is the third of our ex-Presidents who have visited Europe after their retirement from office. The other two were Fillmore and Pierce.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR EYES!

DR. M. S. SASSARETH.

THIS VERY DISTINGUISHED FRENCH OCULIST, (of over 25 years experience), arrived here on the steamer City of Chester, and is now stopping at Room No. 1, St. Charles Hotel, where he will remain until the 25th of June. His office hours are from 1 to 5 P. M. Consultation free.

One of the leading papers of Indiana says of Dr. Sassareth: "He is without doubt a very scientific man, who has thoroughly studied the eye, and fully understands all the diseases and defects to which it is subject. He treats these, removes all obstructions, and performs the most difficult operations when necessary; but the best remedy he furnishes for the defective eyesight is the most perfect glasses we ever saw. Looking through a pair of his glasses is like having a pair of new eyes. The pleasure and satisfaction can only be realized by actual trial. These glasses are made upon the most scientific principle, and therefore are not only just what is needed, but so perfect that the person using them is scarcely aware that any glasses at all are before his eyes. Dr. S. has treated most successfully a number of our leading citizens, and we notice that he is patronized by the best informed people wherever he goes."

Dr. Glick, an eminent physician, writes as follows to Dr. Sassareth: "Having enjoyed the use of your eye glasses, as adapted to my eyes by you in person, I feel that I would be derelict in my duty to those similarly afflicted as I am, if I did not make this acknowledgement of gratitude to you. My glasses, both for reading and walking, give me entire satisfaction."

Says the Delphi (Indiana) Journal: "We are exceedingly cautious in recommending traveling physicians, yet when we find one whose talents and skill are endorsed by the best medical men in the State, we feel that we run no risk in presenting him in the most favorable light. We have just met one whom we can certainly endorse. We allude to Dr. Sassareth, an eminent French Oculist, who is very highly recommended by Dr. Fitch of Logansport, Drs. Glick, O Farrell and other physicians of Lafayette, and scores of the best citizens of both places."

The South Bend Register speaks has of the great skill of Dr. Sassareth: "He is a very scientific oculist and thoroughly understands the delicate organism of the eye. * * * He has treated with the most gratifying results a number of our leading citizens, including ex Vice President Colfax."

A. P. Palmer, a prominent member of the City Bank of Albany, New York, says: "I take great pleasure in referring to the fact about five years ago, when you furnished me with the first eye glasses I ever had occasion to use, and to bear testimony to the correctness of your judgment in the selection of those so admirably adapted to my sight."

DR. SASSARETH expects to remain only about a fortnight in Portland. His time is limited, and those who wish to consult him should call early. He can be seen every day between 1 and 5 o'clock P. M.

OFFICE OF INSURANCE COMMISSIONER, San Francisco, Feb. 5, 1877.

I, W. FOARD, hereby certify that I am Insurance Commissioner of the State of California, and have supervision of insurance business in the State, and as such Commissioner, further certify that the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California is a corporation properly organized under the laws of this State, and being in a solvent condition and possessed of a paid up capital of One Hundred Thousand Dollars, equal to Gold Coin of the United States, is authorized to do business in the State. And I further certify that, upon a personal examination of the books and papers of the said company at the close of the year eighteen hundred and seventy-six, its statement as of this date, and now on file in this office, was shown to be correct and true, the company being possessed of good, valid assets amounting to one million two hundred and sixty-four thousand eight hundred and thirty-six dollars and eighty-six cents ($1,264,836 86), and having outstanding liabilities, as defined by the laws of the State, amounting to nine hundred and sixteen thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars and five cents ($916,750 05), exclusive of the Capital Stock.

L.S. As witness my hand and official seal, the day and year first above written.

J. W. FOARD,
Insurance Commissioner.

Extract from Report of A. D. SMITH, ex-Deputy Insurance Commissioner.

J. G. EDWARDS, Publisher Coast Review,

Dear Sir:—In pursuance of your request I have made an examination of the Assets and Liabilities of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California, as they existed on the 31st day of December, 1876, as shown by the books and papers of the Company, and as a result of such examination I beg to report as follows:

* * * * * *

Total Assets, Gold	$1,281,847 59
Re-Insurance Reserve, American Experience, 4½ per ct.	$886,031 49
Claims for Death Losses	28,700 00
Due on Account Salaries and Rents	2,019 02
Total Liabilities, Gold	916,750 51
Net surplus to Policy-holders, Gold	$365,097 08
Company's paid up Capital	$100,000 00

The above is, I believe, a true and fair statement of the Company's condition Dec. 31, 1876.

In conclusion, I beg to say that I found the Company's business thoroughly systematized—its books and papers in excellent condition and neatly kept. Every facility was extended to me by all the officers and employees of the Company to enable me to make my examination thorough. Books, papers, and accounts were freely exhibited to me. There was no attempt to hold back or conceal anything. I am satisfied the Company courts the most rigid scrutiny. For courteous treatment, I beg to return thanks to the officers and attaches of the Company.

Respectfully submitted, A. D. SMITH.

THEATRICALS.—A letter from Melbourne, Australia, gives information of the whereabouts of a number of persons belonging to the dramatic profession who are not unknown to the Portland public: Henry Dixon and wife (Miss Clara Thompson), recently appeared in the comic opera of "Nemo" at the Opera House in Melbourne, for the first time since their return from San Francisco. They are great favorites with the Australians. Dick Koehler (who is an orchestra in himself), Miss Lizzie Morgan is playing at Christ Church, New South Wales, with Mrs. Siddons. Madame Durel is playing at Melbourne. Sherry Corbyn with the original Georgia Minstrels are at Ballarat. John Coppin has leased the Princess Theater, Melbourne, and is holding forth to crowded houses. Omar Kingsley is with him.

INSTALLATION.—The Grand Lodge A. F. & A. M. of Oregon, which has been in session for several days past, installed yesterday for the following grand officers, to serve for the ensuing year: Robert Clow, of Dallas, M. W. G. M.; Thomas G. Reams, Jacksonville, R. W. G. M.; F. B. Dunn, Eugene City, S. G. W.; R. P. Earhart, M. W. Grand Secretary; Theodore Wygant, Portland, Grand Secretary; J. R. N. Bell, Portland, G. Treasurer; H. H. Gilfry, Salem, G. Chaplain; M. V. Brown, Albany, G. Orator; D. P. Mason, Scio, G. Jr. Deacon; D. P. Mason, Scio, G. Jr. Deacon; Robert Lockwood, Canyon City, G. Steward; J. M. Bentley, Pendleton, G. Steward; J. Conser, Jefferson, G. Standard Bearer; Alex. Bell, Astoria, G. Sword Bearer; M. J. Woodworth, Amity, G. Marshal; N. J. Wallace, Portland, G. Tyler; L. Wallace, Portland, Grand Organist; H. C. Morrice, Portland, G. Lecturer; David Froman, Albany, chairman committee on educational fund. Last evening committee on educational fund. Last evening the Grand Lodge adjourned without day.

VALUE FOUND.—Yesterday afternoon a police discovered a carpet sack lying in the back yard of the building standing at the corner of Front and Salmon streets, and on being opened, and from appearances tossed over a fence into the yard. The contents, consisting of a pair of boots, coat, vest, trowsers, and other articles of clothing, were scattered about the yard in the immediate vicinity of the valise. The name attached to the carpet sack was "G. W. Sloper, Salem." Doubtless it was stolen from one of the hotels of the city, and the thief, after taking out every article of value, except the clothes, which were old and considerably worn, threw sack and contents over into the yard, thinking that the quickest and safest method to get rid of the goods. Both clothes and carpet sack are now at the police headquarters awaiting identification by the owner.

A SLIGHT BLAZE.—Shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon an alarm of fire was sounded, which had the effect to bring out the fire department. The roof of the kitchen of Mr. Levi Hexter's house, situated at the corner of C and Sixth streets, was discovered on fire. The fire caught from sparks issuing from the chimney flue. Before being discovered the fire had obtained quite a start, and the wind was blowing pretty strong at the time. However, the vigorous application of water quickly subdued the incipient conflagration. Damages very slight. Later in the afternoon the big bell struck one blow which brought out several of the fire companies, the alarm

IMPERTINENTS.—A letter from Melbourne, Australia, gives information of the whereabouts of a number of persons belonging to the dramatic profession who are not unknown to the Portland public: Henry Bracy (now with Miss Clara Thompson), recently married in the comic opera of "Nemesis," at the Opera House in Melbourne, for the first time since their return from San Francisco. They are great favorites with the Australians. Mr. Koehler (who is an orchestra in himself) and Mr. Wand are playing at St. George's Hall Melbourne. They are connected with the United States Minstrels. Robert Fulford and Minnie Finley are both playing at Victoria Theater, Sydney. They are supporting the great Australian tragedian, Alfred Dampier. Rose Morgan is playing at Christchurch, New South Wales, with Mrs. Scott Siddons. Madame Duret is playing at Melbourne. Harry Corbyn with the original (?) Georgia Minstrels are at Ballarat. John Wilson has leased the Princess Theater, Melbourne, and is holding forth to crowded houses. Omar Kingsley is with him.

INSTALLATION.—The Grand Lodge A. F. & A. M. of Oregon, which has been in session several days past, installed yesterday the following grand officers, to serve for the ensuing year: Robert Clow, of Dallas, M. W. G. M.; Thomas G. Reams, Jacksonville, D. G. M.; E. R. Dunn, Eugene City, S. G. W.; W. F. Wright, Union, J. G. W.; E. P. Earhart, Portland, Grand Secretary; Theodore Wygant, Portland, Grand Treasurer; J. R. N. Bell, Jacksonville, G. Chaplain; H. H. Gilfry, Salem, G. Marshal; A. J. Woodworth, Portland, G. Master; M. V. Brown, Albany, G. Sr. Deacon; D. P. Mason, Scio, G. Jr. Deacon; Thomas Cox, Canyon City, G. Steward; Lot Lockwood, Pendleton, G. Steward; Jacob M. Bentley, Pendleton, G. S. andard Bearer; O. F. Cramer, Jefferson, G. Sword Bearer; Alex. Watt, Milwaukie, G. Organist; A. J. Woodworth, Portland, G. Marshal; A. J. Wallace, Portland, G. Tyler. Trustees—H. C. Morrice, Portland, G. Librarian; H. C. Morrice, Albany, chairman of committee on educational fund. Last evening the Grand Lodge adjourned without day.

FINE FOUND.—Yesterday afternoon the owner discovered a carpet sack lying in the vacant part of the building standing at the corner of First and Salmon streets, and occupied by Mr. Kafka. The carpet sack had been opened, and from appearances tossed over the fence into the yard. The contents, consisting of a pair of boots, coat, vest, trowsers, shirt and other articles of clothing, were scattered all over the yard in the immediate vicinity of where the sack was found. The name attached to the carpet sack was "O. W. Sloper, Salem." Doubtless it was stolen from one of the hotels of the city, and the thief, after taking out everything of value, except the clothes, which were old and considerably worn, threw sack and contents over into the yard, thinking that the quickest and safest method to get rid of them. Both clothing and carpet sack are now at police headquarters awaiting identification and an owner.

A SMOKY BLAZE.—Shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon an alarm of fire was sounded, which had the effect to bring out the fire department. The roof of the kitchen of Mr. Levi Hexter's house, situated at the corner of O and Sixth streets, was discovered on fire. The fire caught from sparks issuing from the chimney flue. Before being discovered the fire had obtained quite a start, and as a wind was blowing pretty strong at the time. However, the vigorous application of water quickly subdued the incipient conflagration. Damages very slight. Later in the afternoon the big bell struck one blow which brought out several of the fire companies, as it was caused by a moving house coming in contact with the wire.

DAMAGED BY FIRE.—During the temporary absence of the family from home, the residence of Mr. Flint, on the Humphrey place, near Scott's ferry, was totally destroyed by fire on Monday. The house which was an old one was not of very great value, and was soon to be replaced with an elegant new one. It was, however, filled with elaborate furniture valued at about $2,000, which was intended for the new residence, and which is entirely consumed, and on which there is no insurance.

PARTY POSTPONED.—It was the intention of the teachers, pupils and friends of the Unitarian Sunday School to hold a picnic on Saturday, 9th inst. As Rev. T. L. Eliot and family are passengers on board the steamer Geo. W. Elder, which sailed for this port yesterday, it has been determined to postpone the picnic for one week to enable them to attend. Under this arrangement the picnic will not come off until Saturday, 23d inst.

RAINING DOWN.—Quite a stiff zephyr was blowing about the city yesterday, especially in the northern portion, and by reason of it some damage resulted to the fruit trees. Many of the plum, pear and apple trees which were heavily loaded with fruit, were tossed to and fro in the wind, and the limbs, unable to support the weight, in numerous cases split down and snapped short off. The damage is said to be considerable.

ALUMNI MEETING.—The Alumni Association of Albany College Institute held their annual fete on last Wednesday evening at the Tillard Hotel, kept by T. H. Odeneal, formerly of this city. A large number of persons attended. Toasts were responded to in neat speeches by Revs. Irvine and Haines and Messrs. Hewitt and Tate. At a late hour they adjourned, each feeling happier for the pleasant reunion.

EXAMINATION IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—To-day examinations will be held as follows in the public schools: High school—9 to 12 A. M., Algebra; 9 to 12 A. M., Arithmetic, class B. Grammar schools—9 to 10 A. M., Spelling, class B, 1st, 2d and 3d grades. Primary schools—class B, 4th grade, Harrison street school—class B, 4th grade. Central school—Miscellaneous, class A, 6th grade Composition.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.—The members of Portland Lodge I. O. G. T., No. 201, propose to give a moonlight excursion from this city on Friday evening, June 22d. The steamer Dayton has been chartered for the occasion. The steamer will leave Pacific dock at 7:30 P. M. and proceed to Oregon City. A band of music will accompany the excursionists.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED.—Mr. Smith, the celebrated race rider, having made arrangements with the proprietors of the White Horse for the use of their track, and having secured two horses necessary for the race, will be in readiness in a few days to give our citizens an opportunity of witnessing one of those wonderful rides—fifty miles against time.

NOT A TRUE BILL.—Yesterday morning the grand jury in the case of State of Oregon vs Logue and Cotton returned not a true bill. These persons were arrested several months ago charged with the larceny of some blankets from the Occidental Hotel. The defendants were discharged from custody.

UNDER ADVISEMENT.—Judge Shattuck, Tuesday afternoon, heard the argument on the demurrer to the complaint in the case of Felix G. Dorris vs B. F. Smith and Ella Smith. The matter was submitted to the court and taken under advisement.

WARRANT DAY.—Last Monday afternoon the county court, after being in session several days, adjourned without day, having transacted all the business which demanded the attention of Judge Woodward and the Commissioners.

FOR CORVALLIS.—The light draft steamer Ohio will leave for the above point on Monday, 18th. Capt Scott will run his steamer as long as there is a ripple on the bars.

FESTIVAL.—The lecture room of the Presbyterian church was well filled last evening, the occasion being signaled by a feast of berries, cream and lunch. The fact that but little of an eatable nature remained, was certainly proof of the intense desire on the part of those present to partake of the good things. Fancy articles and bouquets found plenty of purchasers, and summing everything up, all had a real splendid time for a few hours.

INCORRECT.—The communications between the officers of the Postal Department, as published yesterday, may be misunderstood, as we are informed by Deputy Special Agent Pierce. Only the third class matter, such as magazines, books and merchandise, is made up for transmission to Oregon by steamer, except the day prior to sailing of steamers, when all mails for Portland and the State are forwarded by the ocean route.

BOX SHEET.—This forenoon at 10 o'clock the box sheet will be open at Gray's Music Store for the opening and subsequent nights of the dramatic season, to be inaugurated at New Market Theater next Monday evening. Now is the time to secure seats to witness the great scenic and sensational play of "Around the World in Eighty Days."

The time was when one could lead a swell life on that, but now, alas! it hardly suffices for pin money, and yet if men would buy their outfits, for themselves and their boys, at Fishel & Roberts', they would find that it would take but a small fraction of a thousand to dress comfortably throughout the year.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 14, 1877.

CONTENTMENT.

FROM "WISDOM OF THE BRAHMIN."

What use of a great house? None, be it full or bare;
Who keeps a great house, needs a host of servants there.
A host of servants naught, but heavy pay can hold:
And heavy pay requires a private shaft of gold.

A shaft of gold requires much care and toil to save;
A small house only I on earth will therefore crave.
The largest house is close, the smallest amply wide.
If there a constant crowd, and here content abide.

COMMENCEMENT AT SALEM.

SALEM, June 13, 1877.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

As a "Commencement correspondent" it doesn't come properly within our province to speak of Salem generally or to attack any of her salient points. It is easier to detect faults than cure them—to proffer advice than to apply it, but a sly prod now and then—such as the Salem dailies occasionally indulge in—is calculated to set the folks to thinking, and may prevent their degenerating into shiftless habits. It may be unpleasant and unkind and all that to say so, but nature has done more for Salem than anything or anybody else. Verily it ought not so to be. The first thing the folks ought to do is to mow down the rank grass which now so disfigures the "avenue," and to replant trees where old ones have died. Flour is $9 a barrel now, and if you must raise a crop you had better cut down the grass and sow it in wheat. Then there's that poor old blind and disconsolate looking Goddess of Justice who keeps her perch so persistently on the dome of the court house and holds those scales with such a desperate and tenacious grip. She has turned her back on all railroad travel, on the University and the avenue, and the State Capitol and Mt. Hood and sunrise and sunset, and sends owingly over the water works and old Jenne House in preference. Won't some kind angel in the guise of an architect face her majesty about and bring her forward either to the center or what is more properly the front end of the structure. May be a change of scene would induce her to attend more strictly to business hereafter. Then your woolen mills have gone up in flame and smoke. Do you intend to allow Albany to subsidize all your capital and secure the location there of every valuable enterprise as she has in the past? What made you replace the old steam ferry with a rope and scow? Why don't you apply the "Agricultural Works" to the use for which they were intended, or something better? Why don't you levy a tax of $50,000, as the Legislature empowered you to do, and build a bridge across the Willamette? Why don't you offer inducements to capitalists to come here and utilize one of the best water powers in the world and make this what it ought to be, the largest manufacturing town on the coast? Times are hard and money is scarce—but won't this policy make it continually scarcer? You needn't answer these conundrums for two weeks, and you know you can't resent them as you might if it were an interloper or "blatsted furriner," instead of a friend who asked them. "Now for commencement." The graduating exercises of the

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT

Of the University took place in the chapel last evening, before an audience filling the room to its utmost capacity. Dr. D. Payton, dean of the medical faculty, presided. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Aurora Band, which is sufficient of itself to indicate that it was the very best. The exercises proper opened with prayer by Rev. C. V. Anthony, after which Dr. Wm. H. Watkinds, of Portland, was introduced and delivered the annual address, a production full of the choicest thoughts. He referred at some length to the fact that originally the vocation of the priest and physician were identical, and commented approvingly upon the propriety of this. The first medical publication, indeed, issued in New England was written by Thos. Thatcher, a prominent clergyman of Boston, and one of the most highly prized medical treatises of that day, was written by Cotton Mather. Medicine, said the speaker, everywhere deserved recognition won by hard service. Her discoveries were not second in importance to those made in other fields of science, and what had been accomplished was almost wholly due to the study and researches of regular practitioners. Little had been accomplished except by hard work and educated effort. The pathway of the profession is strewn with the wreck of theories, and this should be accepted as a warning against mere experimenting. The places we trend are holy, and we must proceed with cautious step, and always give preference to well worn remedies. Medicine is not surpassed as a field for exploration. It has really become one of the exact sciences. Diseases are not now confounded as in the early days of the profession, and the ability of the skillful physician to make the most exact diagnosis of diseases affecting the internal organism of man is little less than marvelous. The numerous discoveries of regular medicine were referred to, and merited tributes were paid to the names of Harvey and Jenner and Sir Charles Bell and others. Before the discovery of cinchona, ague was known as a dangerous and fatal malady, and Oliver Cromwell and many of the nobility had died from its effects. How the diseases and deaths of infants was of much more infrequent occurrence than formerly, and the longevity of man was greatly increased. True, the profession had learned much from charlatanry and even in the rise of homeopathy, and nature was now often allowed to pursue its own course where formerly it was not, but the beneficial effects referred to were almost wholly due to newly discovered remedies. In closing, the speaker warned the graduates that their profession was not likely to instire them great fame or riches, and that their path was not always to be a pleasant one, yet it had its attractions. "Deep rooted also is the prejudice which she learned he was a doctor. At this day she might have married him or become a doctor herself for the profession, with all its trials, is sweetened with pleasures which others know not of, and after an experience in practice of 25 years, we can think of no higher epitaph to carve than that of being remembered as a Christian man and a good physician." The address of Dr. Watkins was followed by the charge to the graduating class, delivered by Philip Harvey, A. M., M. D., late of the medical department of the Iowa State University. He welcomed the class to the brotherhood of medicine in the most cordial terms, and exhorted them to be patient and vigilant and honorable in the practice of the profession, assuring them that there was no crime of greater blackness than the betrayal of professional confidence. "Even the stern voice of justice has no right to call forth professional secrets. The public should demand ordinary skill and diligence in every profession, and without confidence between man and man the social state ceases to exist. But the truth is not to be spoken at all times, and one often has a right to use artifice and to some extent deceit. The physician must preserve his reputation for veracity, and must not practice deceit too far. He should never assume to know what he doesn't know, or always promise to cure, or make visits and write prescriptions where the circumstances do not demand." The theories of the speaker upon these points were eminently practical, though they differ somewhat from the views of Wayland and some other writers on moral science. The charge closed with some complimentary allusions to the class and to the fact that it contained two ladies. To the latter fact the speaker devoted considerable attention, noting its infrequent occurrence, recounting the struggles by which such things had finally become possible and congratulating womankind and the world that the old forbidding barriers had finally been broken down. The charge was followed by the conferring of degrees by President T. M. Gatch upon the class—a list of which was sent you yesterday. After the literary exercises the whole medical fraternity now present in Salem repaired to the Chemeketa which was most profusely and tastefully decorated for the occasion. Aside from the attractions of flowers and evergreens, banners and transparencies and the musical twitter of four or five dozen canaries, there was an abundance of good things to "clog the hungry edge of the appetite." At least 200 guests were in attendance and they were entertained until far past the hour of midnight with regular and volunteer toasts and responses, and from the various members of the profession, and by Messrs. Mallory, Odell, Rev. C. V. Anthony and others among the invited guests.

SHE IS WAITING.

A well-to-do widow living in the northern part of the city has during the past winter depended solely upon the sun to clear her walks of snow, and boys with snow shovels and policemen with notices have failed to alter her programme. Yesterday morning after the big storm there was a drift a foot deep in front of her house, and a boy with innocent blue eyes and flaxen hair rang the bell and brought her down the hall at a trot.

"Does the Widder —— live here?" he asked, as she opened the door.

She said she was the person named, and he continued:

"You've been awful good to us poor folks this winter, and I ran over from Woodward avenue to say that there's the nicest sort of a man in a drug store asking about you."

"About me?"

"Yes'm. He's got a big gold watch, and diamonds, and a plug hat and a gold-headed cane, and I heard him ask the clerk if you were married yet."

"He did?"

"Yes'm, and when the clerk told him no, he asked for the number of your house, and I heard him say something about old love—graves—recollections—big house on Fifth avenue, New York, and he sighed. I believe he's coming over here."

"Who can it be—who can it be?" she mused.

"Hain't the least idea. He doesn't look as if he was used to wading through the snow, and I thought I'd slip over and clean off your walks."

"Yes—ah—of—course—wait a minute, bub."

She ran and got a silver quarter, patted him on the head and went in to get on her best clothes. She didn't see the boy any more, and at 5 o'clock in the afternoon she was still looking over toward the avenue, her optics having a tired expression and her nose a weary pose. Boys shouldn't be up to such tricks. If it isn't downright lying it is deception in the second degree, and it upsets household arrangements for a whole day.—Detroit Free Press.

In local monetary matters there is nothing new or unusual to report, the market moving on quietly in the same channel from day to day, and, indeed, from week to week, so that a description of the situation yesterday or last week would be applicable to the present condition. The city banks and other institutions of capital are reported to be in possession of abundant funds to meet the current demand for legitimate purposes. The absence of any excessive speculative spirit in the community, and the ordinary branches of trade are not the source of any great or unusual demand at this season of the year. Taking all things into consideration, the local financial situation may be regarded as a favorable one for an extensive and fairly prosperous season's business during the fall months.

General trade matters this week are tolerably active, and seasonable goods are being placed in considerable volume with no important fluctuation in quotations.

The home produce market is devoid of anything of an exciting nature, and dealers, though moving cautiously, are taking staple commodities freely at current rates. Perishable products are abundant, and especially some kinds of fruits are very low in price, while the staples, such as provisions, wool and breadstuffs, are much more readily placed. There is much complaint this summer of the condition in which many lots of eggs are sent to market. Wool is now coming forward very freely, but prices, though very firm, are not marked up.

New York Freights and Markets.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

NEW YORK, June 13.—Pacific coast freights, via Cape Horn, continue dull, and there is nothing of interest to ships. Rates for freight are unchanged, although weak. Suitable ships for this trade are more plenty, now that owners fail to get remunerative transatlantic freights, and they are more willing to accept offers. Against latest engagement in the Ocean King: 3,160 tons, Sutton's line. It is reported that serious complications between consignees of cargo underwriters, and owners of the ship Blue Jacket, belonging to the Bellingham Bay Company, and which arrived at this port May 10th, are likely to arise in connection with her late voyage from San Francisco to New York, and that legal proceedings involving a large amount have already been taken against the ship. It is understood that the ship has been libeled in the sum of $25,000, and that bonds for that amount have been furnished, also that another consignee has instructed his attorney to commence proceedings for an additional amount of twelve thousand dollars, owing to the damaged condition of the barley on arrival here, it being found totally unfit for malting purposes and the ship being held responsible.

Merchandise markets generally quiet. Flour quiet and unchanged, buyers and sellers too far apart in views to trade freely. Wheat quiet and closed 1a2c lower. Rye dull, weak, lower $13 80a13 90. Rio coffee more active, holders asking full figures. Refined sugars dull, irregular, lots unchanged. Hides quiet, no dealers firm, sales 1,500 Pacific coast, private, quoted 21½. Wool shows a slight improvement; spring California meets most favor; receipts do not accumulate and prices show improvement, sales 100,000 lbs new spring, 21½@25; 67,000 lbs fall 16½@20.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, June 13.—Wool firm, fleece scarce, prices range from 40 to 43c for Ohio and Pennsylvania, including all grades; 37@40c for Michigan, Wisconsin and Newport; super and X pulled in fair demand at 30@35c; spring California in demand, sales mostly 26@32c; for good choice fancy at 33@34c.

WONDERFUL SUCCESS

OF

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

In the Treatment of Chronic Disease.

Positive Proof of his Wonderful Skill.

Testimony that Cannot be Contradicted.

Reliable Witnesses Testifying What he has Done for Them.

Perfect Cures where all other Treatment had Failed.

Crowds Coming from all Parts of the Country to Visit Him.

The Following Certificates Speak for Themselves:

TO DR. PAUL M. BRENAN—

For the past year and a half I have been suffering from Nervous and General Debility, Kidney Disease, Loss of Flesh and Strength, dizziness in the head and a constant pain through the back and loins. I became so debilitated and broken down that I was unfitted for business. I have been to Victoria and all over the coast under medical treatment for the past nine months, without receiving any benefit whatever, and had almost given up hopes of ever recovering, until I came under your treatment, about seven weeks ago. From the very first your treatment seemed to work like a charm, and I constantly improved from the beginning. I have gained 14 pounds of flesh, and I am now, thanks to your skillful treatment, perfectly well, and am able to return to my business on the Snohomish. JAMES KING.

Seattle, March 31, 1877.

To the People: I have been troubled with chronic Nasal Catarrh for years, the disease being so aggravated that there was constantly an effusion of matter passing down into my throat behind the palate and down through my nostrils.

My nose became depressed between the eyes and swollen on each side. I was told by physicians that it was a polypus; that some of the blood vessels were involved and that the removal would endanger my life by hemorrhage. I became so bad that I made up my mind that I must have immediate relief or die.

As a last resort I applied to Dr. Paul M. Brenan, who, after a moment's examination, determined what to do. He said the nasal bone was involved and diseased, and that there would have to be a portion of it removed. He at once removed the bone tumor containing the ulcer, the diseased portion of bone and pituitary gland and cured the catarrh. I am now perfectly well and as free from disease as ever I was in my life.

THOMAS D. MURPHY.

Seattle, April 5th, 1877.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN—Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in stating for the benefit of those who are afflicted with any chronic disease, that I am now a well man. For the past two years I have been under the medical treatment of different physicians, from which I have received no benefit. I have been suffering with general and nervous debility, a difficulty in my stomach, and at times dizziness and severe headache, almost incapacitating me for work. About three weeks ago I put myself under your care, and I can say with delight that I am cured and feel like myself again, after having partaken of your skillful treatment. To me now, labor seems a pleasure. I say this much, hoping it will be the means of attracting the suffering to you who can relieve and cure them.

Yours Truly, JOHN BALLARD.

Employed at Colman's Saw Mill, Seattle.

JOHN D. TOWNSEND, Esq.—Sir: Herewith I return to you the statement of testimony which you assert that Wm. M. Tweed could give if he were released from imprisonment. After careful consideration I have come to the conclusion that the testimony which said Tweed could give, as shown by said statement, would not justify his release.

CHAS. S. FAIRCHILD, Att'y Gen.

Townsend, with Tweed's assent, will present all the facts in the case to the public in a few days.

Tweed and his Pals.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Has Changed his Views.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—President Hayes, although in former years predisposed, like many other hard money men, to adhere to the prevalent doctrines of financial writers in favor of a single gold standard, has materially changed his views regarding the wisdom and propriety of the act of 1873, which demonetized the old legal tender silver dollar. He is now in favor of its remonetization and of the re-adoption of the double standard of gold and silver. He favors full return to the condition of things in relation to these subjects which existed previous to the legislation of 1873, being convinced that such return to the former system will greatly promote the resumption of specie payments, an object that he regards as of first importance. While, however, he considers legislation of 1873 hasty and uncalled for legislation with the legal tender powers of a large portion of our circulation, he has not yet formed any determination to bring the subject officially to the attention of Congress, although it is by no means improbable he may hereafter conclude that some recommendations of the nature above outlined will be advisable.

Hayes a Silver Man.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Your correspondent has authority for stating that he is in favor of remonetization of the old silver dollar and adoption of the double standard as the best means of returning to specie payments, but has not determined to make any recommendations to Congress to this effect.

Small Greenbacks.

The books of the Treasury Department show a total amount of $1 and $2 notes in circulation to be $51,404,511. The amount of such notes in the Treasury office and reserved for use is $10,884,387.

Appointments and Promotions.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—E. S. Nadal, formerly second secretary of the U. S. legation at London, was to-day appointed to again fill that position. Robt. Clayton, heretofore vice consul at Callao has been promoted to be a commercial agent and placed in charge of that consulate. No consulates worth more than $2,000 a year now remain vacant, all vacancies in higher grades having been filled by promotions. The department intends to fill all or nearly all such vacancies as may hereafter occur by additional promotions from the lower grades.

For West Point.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Secretary of War and Gen. Sherman left to-day for West Point.

Interviewing Devens.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Contending factions of the Republican party in Alabama called upon Attorney General Devens to-day.

Brigham Young Called to Account.

The Attorney General has called upon accounting officers of the Treasury for a copy of the accounts of Brigham Young, Mormon leader, filed in the Treasury some twenty years ago, when he was Indian agent, appointed by the government. These accounts are called for at the request of Howard, U. S. attorney for Utah, who will examine them carefully in connection with the Attorney General. It is intimated that they will furnish important testimony against Brigham Young, and upon them a prosecution will be based for various illegal acts committed by him while acting as Indian Agent.

Appointments.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The chief of land division of the Indian bureau has been temporarily assigned to duty as chief clerk of the bureau.

Charles Joseph has been appointed revenue store keeper of Cincinnati district and Albert Stanley gauger of the same district.

A Share of Public Patronage.

A delegation of colored people from Louisiana had two very satisfactory interviews with the President and called on Secretary Sherman this morning. The secretary was asked whether he thought one-third of the patronage was too much for the colored people. He replied that if men of integrity and intelligence were chosen he thought they were entitled to a fair share of patronage, and further remarked he would write to Collector King at New Orleans upon the subject.

Alabama Politics.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—A delegation from Alabama called to-day on Attorney-General Devens regarding the marshalship and attorney-generalship of that State, and were advised to reconcile their differences and agree upon proper appointments.

Summering.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Secretary Schurz to-day accompanied his family to Summit, N. J., where the family will remain during the summer.

A Political Necessity.

Secretary Sherman has informed Talbot, Solicitor of the Treasury, that he would like to have his resignation, as political necessity required that his office should be given to another person. The Secretary said it was probable that other resignations would be asked. Talbot immediately complied with the Secretary's request and tendered his resignation, to take effect July 1st. Assistant Solicitor Robinson is in New York attending to his duties as a member of the custom house commission. So the solicitor's office is without a head.

Navy Yard Reforms.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The Times' Washington correspondent says: Toward the latter part of the month the Secretary of the Navy will go to Boston and Portsmouth. Secretary Thompson stated after the 1st of July, when the appropriation for the next fiscal year comes under his charge for disbursement, he intends to introduce many reforms, and will not allow political influences to supersede mechanical skill as a means of securing work in the yards, nor will he allow the yards to be padded at election times for the benefit of designing politicians. Inspection at the present time is for the purpose of ascertaining the condition of yards, amount of material on hand, and where the different various kinds of work can be performed when desired.

Chinese Immigration.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Bailey, U. S. consulate at Hongkong, China, reports to the Department of State that the number of Chinese who left that port for the United States during the year ended December 31, 1876 was 5,34 less than that of the previous year, and that only 52 of the emigrants were women; showing that the act of March 3, 1875, has been vigorously enforced. Of steamers leaving that port during the year, over 83 per cent. were British, and less than one per cent. under the flag of the United States.

Minions of the Law after Brigham Young.

The World's Washington says United States district attorney Howard of Utah left for Salt Lake after a full understanding with the President and attorney general, and with assurances that he will be supported in the prosecution of Brigham Young on any competent evidence implicating him in the Mountain Meadows Massacre. He has also been directed to prosecute the Prophet on a charge of misapplication of government funds while he was Indian agent, provided the alleged crime is not barred. Papers on file in the comptroller's office covering his disbursements were supplied to the attorney general to day and certified copies will be forwarded to Utah.

Iowa Politics.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Senator Allison, who has just arrived here from Iowa, says there is every probability of a stormy time in the Republican State convention there, which will meet on the 26th inst. He does not believe any resolution, condemning the administration for its Southern policy, will be adopted. Such a resolution would, however, be offered and vigorously advocated. It is the Senator's opinion that the platform will contain no allusion to this policy.

Government Advertising Refused.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Nearly all the papers which usually publish war department advertisements have refused them at the rates fixed by the department, and probably the Department of Justice will consider the matter again.

Consuls Appointed.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Robert T. Clayton, of Georgia, has been appointed consul to Callao, and John F. Quarles, of Georgia, consul at Malaga.

SOUTH AMERICA.

The Earthquake Sinking Ships.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Capt. Chas. MacLeoon of the ship Geneva, sunk at Huanillos in the great earthquake on the Pacific coast on the 9th ult., has arrived. He says his ship became entangled with others near as they tossed wildly about, crushing against each other, sinking almost immediately in 15 fathoms of water. On the first alarm he came up from between decks. It was about half past 8 o'clock P. M. There had been several shocks in the previous twenty days, but he had finished his cargo of guano and was expecting to sail next morning. Aside from the frightful rumbling sound his attention was arrested by the extraordinary phenomena of the mountain above being so much agitated that great rocks became detached and rolled down toward the sea, resembling balls of fire. The water at the anchorage suddenly receded so that ships in 18 fathoms touched bottom. The Geneva too swung round at the rate of 8 or ten knots an hour, in great circles, until she struck against a rock that tore out part of her bottom. The ship was forced violently in an opposite direction and went down. Other vessels were as violently driven ashore. Capt. McLeoon says it seemed to him from the sulphurous or electrical appearance of the mountain that the volcano was bursting out of its sides. Rocks were tumbling about with frightful noise and everything was lighted up. He thinks the damage to shipping was caused not so much by the tidal wave as by the upward rush of water and rotary currents, driving the ships repeatedly against each other.

THE TURF.

HAVANA, June 13.—It is officially announced that the international postal treaty will become effective June 15th.

OREGON.

Many persons are arriving daily at the "silver soap holes." Ledges yielding $50 to the ton have been struck about five miles from there.

At Turner, Marion county, they will soar the eagle on the Fourth, and C. B. Moores, Esq., of Salem, will eulogize the bird. He will do it in fine style, too.

H. M. Crane goes to Albany with his flax machinery. Salem did not offer sufficient inducement. The machinery, worth $25,000, will come from San Francisco at once, and twenty operatives with it.

The stockholders of the Oregon and Washington Fish Propagation Company held their first meeting at the Occident Hotel in Astoria, on Monday evening. The directors chosen for the ensuing year are J. W. Cooke, J. O. Megler, John Adair, Jr., John West and C. F. Lewis. The capital stock is $30,000, of which $20,000 has been subscribed.

A letter from Baker City gives the following mining intelligence: "I have visited the placers all along the western slope of Powder river valley. Daniel Best, on Ruan Gulch, is doing extremely well. He has made one clean up, and shows a piece of gold worth $40. The balance he declines to tell; but he is building a dwelling for his family and making other improvements, so no doubt he has rich ground. An old lake deposit exists all along the slope, of Powder valley. Nelson's, Bulger's and Baisley's claims, near Best's, promise rich results; Baisley's richest of all."

THE WAR IN THE EAST.

The German Navy.

BERLIN, June 12.—The report is denied that Germany is about to form a second practice squadron of seven vessels and preparing to enlist additional seamen.

A Heavy Battle.

CATTARO, June 12.—After fifty-five hours of fighting near Carsatz, carried on mostly at close quarters, the Montenegrins have withdrawn to Bhutani. The losses on both sides amount to several thousand. The Prince of Montenegro has withdrawn his headquarters from near Nicsic back to Ostrok.

Montenegrins Routed.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 12.—Mehemet Ali telegraphs that the Montenegrins have been routed in an engagement in Kalish district.

The Czar's Movements.

BUCHAREST, June 12.—The Czar has signified his willingness to receive Prince Milan at Ploiesti. The Prince will arrive Friday accompanied by Premier Ristics, Gen. Hovatovich and Protics and Leech Janin. The Porte has been officially informed of the projected visit.

Turkish Parliament.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 12.—The session of the Turkish parliament will be closed on the the 22d inst.

Mukhtar Pasha Put Out.

It is stated that Dervish Pasha will supercede Mukhtar Pasha.

A son of Schamul, Circassian chief, has left Onebezound for Erzeroum.

Servian War News.

VIENNA, June 12.—Ten thousand Servians are concentrated at Belgrade and five thousand at Kragujevatz. The permanent committee of the skuptschina propose to reduce salaries of employes thirty per cent. to cover expenses for armaments. Kragujevatz arsenal is working night and day. A Servian demonstration in the direction of Insch is probable, with the object of drawing off Mehemet Ali from Montenegro.

Confiscated Torpedoes.

A large number of torpedoes which had been manufactured at Fiume for Toulon have been confiscated by the Italian customs officers at Corrons.

Protest against Turkish Barbarities.

VIENNA, June 12.—Report state that the Roumanian government has addressed a note to the powers, protesting against the barbarous acts of the Turks, and stating if the powers don't intervene to prevent these depredations Roumania will be compelled to carry the war into Turkey.

Uneasy About Greece.

The Porte is uneasy regarding Greece. Safvet Pasha has questioned the Greek minister at Constantinople concerning the intentions of the new coalition cabinet. The minister's reply is not very reassuring. He said he had no knowledge of any hostile intention, and did not believe preparations were being made with any other object than preparing for all eventualities, but that if Greece finds herself drawn into the struggle she would act openly.

The latter part of the answer referred to apprehensions expressed by Safvet Pasha lest Greece should send bands into Thessaly.

Invasion of Wassajevic.

OSTROK, June 12.—The invasion of Wassajevic by Turks is making progress, the Montenegrin forces there being only three battalions and the Turks having 15 battalions of regulars advancing via Berain from the Servian frontier, and a body of irregulars coming from Gusinje. It is rumored they intend passing by the way of Brobuiak to assist in the relief of Nesic.

Turkish Loss at Krstz.

The total losses of Suleiman Pasha at Krstaz are estimated at 14,000.

Reception of Gortschakoff's Letter.

VIENNA, June 12.—Prince Gortschakoff's letter has been officially communicated to the other cabinets. It seems it has not given such complete satisfaction as was expected. The wording on points relative to Constantinople and the Dardanelles has not been found quite so clear and precise as to exclude ambiguous rendering and set at rest any doubts such as may have prompted the British government to draw up the well known category stated by Mr. Cross. It seems to have struck the British government that though Russia associates she does not covet possession of Constantinople. Still no assurance is given that that city will not eventually be drawn into the range of military operations, and consequently at any rate be temporarily occupied by Russians. The essence of the question is left unanswered, for whether Russia does or does not covet Constantinople seems comparatively immaterial. The important thing for the localization of the war is that Russia should not seize it. The assurance that the Dardanelles must always be regulated by international agreement also does not touch the issue which the British government seems to have had in view, namely, a convention closing the straits to all foreign men-of-war the nullification of which Russia may well be assumed to aim at. It seems also that the assurances that Russia has no intention to monopolize the settlement of the Eastern question, are deemed more vague than they might have been, as they don't state whether the powers will be consulted before or after settlement. Other points in the Prince's letter are not deemed quite satisfactory by the British government and may possibly give rise to a further exchange of ideas between it and Russia.

A Ruler for Bulgaria.

VIENNA, June 13.—At Bucharest the Duke of Leuchtenburg is openly mentioned as intended ruler of Bulgaria.

Turks Invade Russia.

LONDON, June 13.—A Turkish detachment has entered the Russian district of Achalich and threatens Russian communication with Ardahan. Should the Turkish commander succeed, victualing the Russian armies will be very difficult.

Russian Retreat.

On the approach of three flying columns sent by Mukhtar Pasha against the Russian right wing, the Russians not only evacuated Olti but Penuck at the foot of the pass of the Kanlay range leading to Ardshar. Both Olti and Penuck were reoccupied by the Turks who also went in pursuit of the Russians.

Protesting against Peace.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The Tribune's Bucharest correspondent has seen a private letter from a high Russian official at St. Petersburg to one of the Grand Duke's staff, protesting earnestly and with great bitterness against the idea that the Czar will make peace and evacuate Roumania. He considers it an ignominy which the Russian people would not tolerate, and adds that the Czar, before he left the capital, personally informed the writer that Russia's new era of conquest had begun.

Derby and Salisbury on the War.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The Tribune's London special says the speech of Derby and Salisbury last night caused much interest. Derby's views can hardly be gathered from his speech, but his feeling is doubtlessly inclined rather toward peace than war. The war party's sole and constant argument is that England cannot remain quiet, now that her commercial interests are threatened. A division of the country into two new parties on war issues is not improbable. The Radicals present a determined front and are outspoken, but cannot prevail in Parliament at present.

Contraband Powder.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 13.—A vessel which was about to discharge a cargo of 150 barrels of powder at Crete has been captured by Turkish war-vessels.

Allah to be Praised.

The Tribune's Constantinople special says the Sultan has ordered special praise services at St. Sophia on account of the news of the Turkish recapture of Olti, and defeat at Pennack of the Russians. Foreigners distrust the news. The above is not from the immediate scene of operations, and previous dispatches stated the Russians were withdrawing in the direction of Erzeroum in order to prosecute the siege of Kars, reduce it, and keep the rear from attack, and also that Grand Duke Michael, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies in Asia, commenced personally to reconnoiter Kars.

Turkish Commandants.

Moustapha Tewfice Pasha has been appointed commandant of Kars.

Dervish Pasha has arrived here from Salonica to take command of the Batoum division of the Turkish army.

English and American Captains.

Of the captains of Russian torpedo boats recently sunk at Salina, mouth of the Danube, one an Englishman and the other an American, have been placed on Turkish vessels in Ismalia and are expected to-day at Constantinople.

Odessa in Danger.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Hobart Pasha has been ordered to bombard Odessa.

Russian Financial Measure.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 13.—An imperial ukase, dated Ploiesti, June 7th, is promulgated to-day empowering the finance minister to issue a foreign 5 per cent. loan of $75,000,000 in bonds of $100 each, payable to bearer and redeemable by annual drawings at the rate of 1 per cent. of nominal capital, for which a special fund will be provided.

General War Notes.

LONDON, June 12.—There is almost an utter absence of news of interest either from Asia, the Danube or Montenegro. The two armies on the Danube are watching one another, and cannonading is frequent, but the Russians have not disclosed their intentions. The Turkish report of the Russian attempt on Saturday to cross at Rutschuk is not worthy of attention, as the attempt certainly was not serious. The St. Petersburg telegram says it was merely the cannonading of sappers working at Giurgevo.

From Asia there is nothing later than the evacuating of Olti. The Russians at Pera number 4,000 men and nine guns, while the Turkish corps which reoccupied Olti consisted of six battalions, two batteries and a thousand cavalry. Russian and Turkish accounts agree that cannonading at Kars is ineffectual and indecisive.

LONDON, June 13.—Desultory firing is reported from batteries on the Danube.

The Turks at Kars have made several sorties but were repulsed with loss.

The Servian government continues warlike preparations. A large party is being completed near the capital.

The principal heads of the agreement are: The agreement to remain in force for 50 years from May 1, 1877, with power to either Company to terminate it at the end of 25 years; actual receipts after deducting certain charges, to go to joint account, of which 75 per cent. is to belong to the Anglo-American and 25 per cent. to the direct company. In case of interruption to either line for more than one year these proportions are to be modified, and in case of total interruption for more than 20 consecutive months the agreement to be terminable by notice. An allowance at the rate of £70,000 a year is to be made by the direct company out of their receipts to the Anglo-American Company during such time as the Anglo-American Company shall keep two or more cables in working order.

Holland Election.

AMSTERDAM, June 13.—The biennial election of half the members of the second chamber, to replace those retiring by rotation, resulted in the return of all Liberals.

Something like the following was asserted by the Idaho Statesman, and now the Walla Walla Union gives it editorial endorsement: "The impression prevails here with a majority of our citizens that Lewis put up this little job (forged resignation) himself, as a kind of a sympathetic dodge, and to forestall the action of a movement on the Sound against him."

Pinney in Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—The examination of Pinney on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses, was resumed in police court this afternoon. The first two charges were passed, the certificates not being in court; the third was dismissed, Pinney having already been held on the same one for forgery, and the fourth one was dismissed on motion of the prosecuting attorney, the $10,000 borrowed on that having been paid to Burr's bank in 1875. The fifth case, in which the Bank of British Columbia is interested, was passed, and the sixth taken up, the date of the certificate being August 14, 1875, issued to Montagnie for the sum of $84,373 05. Mr. Burr was placed on the stand and informed the Court that $240,000 out of which Pinney swindled the bank was made good at the time by the directors. The testimony adduced is to about the same purport as in previous cases. Examination not yet concluded.

Sunstroke.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—During the recent heated term it is reported that several cases of sunstroke have occurred in the city, though none of them have resulted fatally. Two cases are mentioned of ladies, one of whom was prostrated on Kearney street yesterday, the other at the corner of Powell and O'Farrell streets, both remaining unconscious some hours.

WOODLAND, June 12.—Two cases of sunstroke, Patrick Carbey who died last night, and Andrew Nobis, who is dangerously ill, but is thought to be improving.

SAN JOSE, June 13.—John Hogan, section man on the S. P. R. R., died at 3 A. M. to-day from sunstroke.

Pinney Still in Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—The examination of Pinney's $84,000 certificate, issued in the name of Thomas Rodgers & Co., was resumed in the police court this afternoon. The testimony went to show the government had never owed Rodgers anything like the sum for which the certificate was made out, that Spalding had signed it in blank and Rodgers had endorsed it without seeing the contents. The prosecution rested and the defense asked a continuance for a day or two to obtain some evidence, which was granted. The defense then announced a readiness to waive examination on all charges of obtaining money under false pretenses except those in which the Bank of British Columbia, Clay street Bank and the Swiss American Bank were concerned. On these seven remaining charges and two charges of forgery examination was waived. The court then rearranged Pinney's bail in view of the great number of cases against him, and fixed bail as follows: On embezzlement case $2,000; on seven cases of obtaining money under false pretenses $2,000 each; on two charges of forgery $3,000 each, which with other cases previously set makes his total bail $55,000, none of which has yet been furnished.

Run Over and Killed.

About a quarter past eleven this morning Michael McKew, a varnisher by occupation, was run over by the train from San Jose on Thirtieth street near Mission and sustained injuries which will in all probability be fatal.

California Crop Prospects.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—Crop and weather reports from all principal points in the State show no material variation from previous reports. Harvesting has commenced in many localities in the northern portion of the State. The recent spell of hot weather has occasioned but trifling damage. A slight shrinkage reported in some localities, and in some places the north wind which prevailed shattered the grain a little, but the main effect of the heat seems to have been to hasten ripening a week or more. The extreme heated term is now over, though it is still very warm in many interior valleys.

Political.

SACRAMENTO, June 12.—The Republican county central committee met to-day and fixed the date for holding the primaries for July 21st and for the county convention July 26th. The session of the committee was very harmonious, and the view list of inspectors and judges of election selected gives great satisfaction to the people. The convention was fixed late in July to avoid interference with the grain and fruit harvest in the busiest days. The outlook, say the leading members of the party here, is one of great promise for the party. There is no element of inharmony known within the lines of the party here and no prospect of it for the coming campaign within the Republican party. That the ticket to be nominated will polll the strength of the party in September is conceded here on all hands.

Homicide.

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—About 2 o'clock this morning a homicide was committed on the Feliz Rancho, four miles from this city. A woman named Concepcion y Carra, wife of Ancieta de Cado, left him about 6 months ago and took up her residence with a man named Vicente Les Cado. De Cado went to the house last night and after failing to force an entrance through the window fired his revolver through the door, when Les Cado opened the door and shot him through the breast, killing him instantly. The coroner's jury found the shooting done in self-defense.

Fire and Water.

LODI, Cal., June 13.—Byron D. Beckwith had about six thousand dollars worth of wheat destroyed by fire night before last in the field.

E. M. Proctor, who has been engaged working in a saw mill in this place, was drowned last evening about 7 o'clock while bathing in Mokelumne river.

A DESERTED VILLAGE.

Not Auburn, loveliest village of the plain, but Auburn, the old mining camp of Baker, is the deserted village referred to in the following paragraph from editorial correspondence of the Mountain Sentinel:

In passing over the mountains from Powder river valley to Auburn, the traveler is surprised at the amount of mining that has been done in the past fifteen years. Almost every gulch and many mountain sides have been cleaned, and extensive mining is yet being done. We crossed Griffin's gulch where the first gold was struck in the Blue mountains. The pioneer cabin in which our old friend Cap. Stafford wintered in '61, yet remains; even the Celestials seem to have a reverence for it, and we hope the miner will see that it is permitted to remain until the destroying hand of time alone shall cause it to mingle with the soil of its native gulch where grew the trees from which it was constructed. We found the once busy and densely populated city of Auburn, now reduced to a very desolate and almost depopulated mining camp. There are minerals deposited in the deep gravel beds that underlie the remains of the time-shattered city, and we are glad to learn that they realize good pay for their labor.

Wool, hop poles and oats constituted the Dakota's last freight from Seattle to San Francisco.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

Sherman's Policy Fully Stated and Discussed.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The elaborate statement of the policy of the compromise on the silver question simply means while silver remains at the present figure, the monetary standard to continue as it is, Sherman proposes to coin a dollar of full value on relative proportion to gold of 16 to 1, and this he proposes to issue in exchange for legal tender notes. He expects that $50,000,000 of notes could be readily redeemed in this way and the process of resumption greatly facilitated, as the note would be worth a trifle more than the dollar, and as a majority of the people think a roll of notes more convenient than a pocketful of silver pieces. We suspect Sherman is expecting a good deal too much. In any case the plan is a double standard only in name, and under its operation silver could be brought out in large quantities only in the event of a decided depreciation in the value of legal tender or what is same thing, a sharp rise in the gold premium. Its possible mischievous effects are ob

PROMISE AND PERFORMANCE.

Other parts of the United States are receiving instruction and discipline in the same peculiar sort of civil service reform which the administration has been practicing in Oregon. The President's professions are fine. Iteration adds to their value. Hardly a week passes which is not distinguished by delivery to the country of some very proper sentiments on the subject. These utterances the whole people greatly admire. They appreciate the importance of having an executive who talks so sturdily for the divorcement of the civil service from political patronage and partisan influence. It is a very agreeable thing to hear so frequently, and from so eminent a source, that it is all wrong to use the public service to reward the adherents of party, or to subserve partisan ends. It is delightful also to have an authoritative declaration every few days to the effect that men in office are expected to perform only official duty; that they are not to be removed on political or partisan grounds; that the voice of "influence" will be unheeded at the White House, and that the duty of the Executive is to be President of the United States and not the promoter or guardian of the interests of any political party. The public ear is attent to sound doctines like these; but there is some reason to fear the country will grow weary with hearing them before it sees them enforced.

Recent appointments for Oregon, brought about in the old way, showed, indeed, that reform, though talking from a distance with sweetest words, had not yet put in an actual appearance in our State. But impatience was suppressed, because it was remembered that Oregon is so remote as to be beyond reach of the genial influences that were to prevail nearer the seat of government. At this distance people must not be unreasonable, but should content themselves with the telephone of reform. It may be feared, however, that public patience will be a little shaken by recent transactions elsewhere. Louisiana and Alabama in some respects are more important States than Oregon, and are not so distant from Washington. Reform that talks so grandly at the capital ought to have vigor enough to exert an influence as far as Mobile and New Orleans. But Pitkin is removed in order to pay Wharton for services rendered in settling the Louisiana squabble in favor of the Nicholls government, and nearly the whole list of officials in Alabama is changed in the interest of those whom the President "considers the Union-Republicans of the State,"—the avowed object being to build up an administration party. It must be confessed that all this doesn't look as if it were the intention to take the federal offices out of politics. If the President should turn back to the letter in which he accepted the Cincinnati nomination, or reread his inaugural address, it would puzzle him to find arguments to support his removals and appointments in Alabama and Louisiana. An administration party in those States would be a good thing, no doubt; but better methods of civil service, which it is one of the avowed objects of the administration to enforce, will hardly be promoted by a course of intrigue, through which officials are arbitrarily changed in order to accomplish partisan objects.

We do not forget that sound measures for the improvement of the public service have been put in force in Philadelphia and New York. It is a memorable fact, too, that in many instances the President has resisted the approach of partisan influence in matters relating to his official action. In general there is an improved tone in the public service under the present administration. Credit must be given for it. But it unfortunately happens that whenever anything relating to matters at the South comes to the front it is managed in such a way as to suggest at once that certain Ohio politicians who are the President's closest friends and advisers promised things that must be performed in order that faith may be kept. When the Southern subsidy schemes come up we shall have the real touchstone of the business. Criticism, if it would be impartial, must await that event before it pronounces a judgment.

THE LATE CANDIDATE.

Mr. Tilden is no longer able to suppress his emotions. He must unpack his heart with words. But he has a glimmering consciousness that it is not seemly to parade his disappointments, and that what he says will be interpreted as an utterance of his griefs. He begins, therefore, by saying that he entertains no sense of personal wrong, but that it is the greatest of misfortunes to the country that he is not President. There is no excess of modesty in putting the case in this way. Mr. Tilden says the decision was a "fraudulent" one. How was that decision reached? Through a law solemnly enacted. The power having sole authority to prescribe the manner in which the electoral vote should be counted created the Commission which decided in a perfectly lawful way in favor of Hayes and Wheeler. A majority of Republicans opposed this method; a majority of Democrats supported it. The plan was, in fact, a Democratic one. A result was reached which neither party could foresee. Had it gone for Tilden and Hendricks all Republicans would have acquiesced, and Hayes and Wheeler would not be loading the air with complaints,—even though they know that a third of the Colored vote of the South was crushed in order that majorities might be counted for the men who are so indignant because their supporters were "defrauded of the fruits of their elective franchise.

No, Mr. Tilden; this is not "the greatest wrong that has stained our national annals." Were it as grave as it is asserted to be, still it were then insignificant in wickedness compared with the effort made by a party in 1861 to destroy the national government because it had lost an election. It was also a greater wrong to have carried Mississippi, South Carolina and other States in 1876 by organized violence, intimidation and murder. It was notoriously by such means that Mr. Tilden gained the numerical majority he boasts of. Were it true that the returning board of Louisiana wrongfully certified the result, the crime was a trifling one compared with the record of blood and violence in Mississippi, by which the honest vote of that State was reversed.

The man who could not find a tongue to speak for his country when it was in the agony of an effort to defend its very existence can now talk in doleful strain of the peril it is in because the electoral commission did not decide in his favor. It is in bad taste for the late candidate to show his wounds. Unfortunate also is his allusion to the Tweed government of New York. It had, he says, "conquered or bribed or flattered, and won almost everybody into acquiescence." Among those thus won was Samuel J. Tilden, whom honest Horace Greeley implored in vain to quit the political fellowship of Tweed. But Mr. Tilden continued his "acquiesence" until the assaults made by others on that "corrupt dynasty" made its fall inevitable. Then after the battle was fought he became a reformer. These are not new facts; but it is proper to recall them on occasions when Mr. Tilden assumes such show of virtue and declaims so feelingly against frauds in politics.

SHERMAN ON SILVER.

Secretary Sherman has been elaborating his views on the silver question. They are essentially sound. His statements appear to have been carefully considered. Long acquaintance with the principles of finance and close attention to the financial history of the United States during an extended service as chairman of the finance committee of the Senate, give a value to his judgments on this subject; and it would seem that he has hit the proper mean between two extremes of opinion. It would hardly do now to propose seriously that silver shall be made an unlimited legal tender. Nor, on the other hand, should a policy be adopted that would banish it altogether. The true place and real use of silver as money is to furnish a subsidiary coin. Gold is the recognized standard, but there is room and necessity for the use of silver in small sums, and nothing else can well replace it. It is not unlikely that in Ohio, where financial vagaries have an unusual hold, both parties may declare for silver as the standard,—each trying to outdo the other. This is the way in which they proceeded with the greenback notion, now so generally exploded. It is evident that Sherman takes great interest in the subject on account of its political bearings. His statements are manifestly put forth at this time in the hope of reconciling conflicting views among members of his party in Ohio and elsewhere.

FRENCH POLITICS.

It is altogether impossible to get any accurate view through meagre telegraphic statements of the causes which are producing the present disturbances in French politics. Correspondents of English and American newspapers, trained by experience to familiarity with the intricacies of affairs in France, find difficulty in making readers understand the involutions and complications of politics under the present government. We select, however, from correspondence of the New York Tribune certain statements that throw light on the situation. The writer speaks thus of the MacMahon coup d' etat:

I presume there can be no need to state that the insane act committed by Marshal McMahon was planned and directed by the ultramontanes. They have been the plotters, but their combination rests upon what they believe to be the universal floating hatred of all the conservative classes in France against the republic; it is perhaps here that may lie the great mistake, and in this very misapprehension of facts will be found a relative safety.

We are, as the present moment, in France, and have been for many years, in the agonies of two crises; one is special to France, the other is common to the French and to every other European nation since the days of Rousseau and Voltaire. This last is, namely, the struggle between superstition and free thought; the struggle special to France only is that which is going on between the absolutely exhausted upper or so-called governing classes and the entire mass of the country itself. It is because they feel the shadow of the future growing over them, and because they begin to hear the heavy footfall of advancing time, that the condemned of all denominations rise to wild revolt, and from time to time seem to fight together for the same cause; but the shades of their creed are different.

Two currents surged up the day after Marshal Moltke's speech in Berlin; one, the energetic resolve to maintain peace by a political understanding with Germany (such an understanding being practicable); the other a wild, insane desire to provoke an ultramontane crusade and unite all the Catholic forces against Italy and Bismarck! It was a declaration with government sanction, of the national policy of France. This hastened the crisis. The large portion of what I would call the vulgar Catholicism of France demands a new papal crusade. But, on the other hand, the overwhelming majority of the country is determined upon peace, and will, under no pretext, be dragged into a war with Bismarck, and find itself exposed to a second invasion.

HORRIBLE PLAINNESS.

Gov. Stone, of Mississippi, is pursued with much criticism and reproach on account of his supposed indifference to the Kemper county murders. But suppose he were energetic as any executive could be, what could he accomplish against a public sentiment which is interpreted with the horrible plainness that characterizes the following from the Meridian (Miss.) Mercury? The paper is published in the county next adjoining Kemper:

April 20, in DeKalb, never ought to be investigated, and if wisdom and statesmanship prevail, never will be. On that day the higher law, which antedates common law and all other law, ousted them and all their ministers of jurisdiction, and for a brief period of time sufficient to its purpose, held sway. Its judgments were final. No court is competent to disturb them. Every attempt to review them will be both futile and mischievous.

Postal agent Steel informs us that until Tuesday last he was not aware that an order had been issued at Washington to send third-class mail matter from California to Oregon by steamer. He thinks the order was made on the recommendation of Baily, an officer of the department who was here a few weeks ago and returned to Washington. Also that it was probably not the intention to exclude the newspapers from the overland mail, but only packages of merchandise with which the bags are often overloaded. The order, however, is a sweeping one, and excludes all but first-class matter. Daily papers from the East and California are worthless by the time they reach Oregon. It is well enough to send packages of merchandise, passing through the mails, by steamer to Portland; but the stage company have gone much further in their demand and secured a better thing. They have only the letter pouches to carry, and these are of trifling weight. Fine opportunity is therefore afforded for the transportation of passengers.

Several newspapers speak in favor of a modification of the Northern Pacific land grant, so as to give the company the proceeds of the sale of lands rather than the lands in fee. Suppose the business were transacted and the money paid through the government land offices, would not the arrangement be a fair one both for the settler and the company? Sales of lands would probably build the road through Montana and Idaho to the Columbia river.

As the instance of Senator Stanley Matthews' resignation of certain officials has been requested, in order to make room for his own political favorites. The Pittsburg Leader speaks of the case of Capt. Devenney, holding an important office which he has filled worthily, who has been "notified," on the ground that the place is wanted for one Farenbach, of Cleveland. And the Leader falls to quoting Hayes' letter of acceptance with a pathetic vigor.

General Grant is the third of our ex-Presidents who have visited Europe after their retirement from office. The other two were Fillmore and Pierce.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR EYES!

DR. M. S. SASSARETH.

THIS VERY DISTINGUISHED FRENCH OCULIST, (of over 25 years experience), arrived here on the steamer City of Chester, and is now stopping at Room No. 1, St. Charles Hotel, where he will remain until the 21st of June. His office hours are from 1 to 5 P. M. Consultation free.

One of the leading papers of Indiana says of Dr. Sassareth: "He is without doubt a very scientific man, who has thoroughly studied the eye, and fully understands all the diseases and defects to which it is subject. He treats disease, removes all obstructions, and performs the most difficult operations when necessary; but the best remedy he furnishes for the defective eyesight is the most perfect glasses we ever saw. Looking through a pair of his glasses is like having a pair of new eyes. The pleasure and satisfaction can only be realized by actual trial. These glasses are made upon the most scientific principle, and therefore are not only just what is needed, but so perfect that the person using them is scarcely aware that any glasses at all are before his eyes. Dr. S. has treated most successfully a number of our leading citizens, and we notice that he is patronized by the best informed people wherever he goes."

Dr. Glick, an eminent physician, writes as follows to Dr. Sassareth: "Having enjoyed the use of your eye glasses, as adapted to my eyes by you in person, I feel that I would be derelict in my duty to those similarly afflicted as I am, if I did not make this acknowledgement of gratitude to you. My glasses, both for reading and walking, give me entire satisfaction."

Says the Delphi (Indiana) Journal: "We are exceedingly cautious in recommending traveling physicians, yet when we find one whose talents and skill are endorsed by the best medical men in the State, we feel that we run no risk in presenting him in the most favorable light. We have just met one whom we can certainly indorse. We allude to Dr. Sassareth, an eminent French Oculist, who is very highly recommended by Dr. Fitch of Logansport, Drs. Glick, Farrell and other physicians of Lafayette, and scores of the best citizens of both places."

The South Bend Register speaks thus of the great skill of Dr. Sassareth: "He is a very scientific oculist and thoroughly understands the delicate organism of the eye. * * * He has treated with the most gratifying results a number of our leading citizens, including ex Vice President Colfax."

A. P. Palmer, a prominent member of the City Bank of Albany, New York, says: "I take great pleasure in referring to the fact about five years ago, when you furnished me with the first eye glasses I ever had occasion to use, and to bear testimony to the correctness of your judgment in the selection of those so admirably adapted to my sight."

DR. SASSARETH expects to remain only about a fortnight in Portland. His time is limited, and those who wish to consult him should call early. He can be seen every day between 11 and 5 o'clock P. M.

OFFICE OF INSURANCE COMMISSIONER,
San Francisco, Feb. 5, 1877.

I, J. W. Foard, hereby certify that I am Insurance Commissioner of the State of California, and have supervision of insurance business in the State, and as such Commissioner, further certify that the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California is a corporation properly organized under the laws of this State, and being in a solvent condition and possessed of a paid up capital of One Hundred Thousand Dollars, equal to Gold Coin of the United States, is authorized to do business in the State. And I further certify that, upon a personal examination of the books and papers of the said company at the close of the year eighteen hundred and seventy-six, its statement as of this date, and now on file in this office, was shown to be correct and true, the company being possessed of good, valid assets amounting to one million two hundred and sixty-four thousand eight hundred and forty-six dollars and eighty six cents ($1,264,846 86), and having outstanding liabilities, as defined by the laws of the State, amounting to nine hundred and sixteen thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars and five cents ($916,750 05), exclusive of the Capital Stock.

L.S. As witness my hand and official seal, the day and year first above written.

J. W. FOARD,
Insurance Commissioner.

Extract from Report of A. D. Smith, ex-Deputy Insurance Commissioner.

J. G. EDWARDS, Publisher Coast Review,

Dear Sir:—In pursuance of your request I have made an examination of the Assets and Liabilities of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California, as they existed on the 31st day of December, 1876, as shown by the books and papers of the Company, and as a result of such examination I beg to report as follows:

Total Assets, Gold	$1,281,847 59
Re-insurance Reserve, American Experience, 4½ per ct.	886,031 49
Claims for Death Losses	28,700 00
Due on Account Salaries and Rents	2,019 02
Total Liabilities, Gold	916,750 51
Net surplus to Policy-holders, Gold	$365,097 08
Company's paid up Capital	100,000 00

The above is I believe, a true and fair statement of the Company's condition Dec. 31, 1876.

In conclusion, I beg to say that I found the Company's business thoroughly systematized—its books and papers in excellent condition and neatly kept. Every facility was extended to me by all the officers and employees of the Company to enable me to make my examination thorough. Books, papers, and accounts were freely exhibited to me. There was no attempt to hold back or conceal anything. I am satisfied the Company courts the most rigid scrutiny. For courteous treatment, I beg to return thanks to the officers and attaches of the Company.

Respectfully submitted, A. D. SMITH.

"If I Had but a Thousand a Year!"

The time was when one could lead a swell life on that, but LOW, alas! it hardly suffices for pin money, and yet if men would buy their outfits, for themselves and their boys, at Fishel & Roberts', they would find that it would take but a small fraction of a thousand to dress comfortably throughout the year.

CONTENTMENT.

FROM "WISDOM OF THE BRAHMIN"

What use of a great house? None be it full or bare
Who keeps a great house, needs a host of servants there.
A host of servants naught, but heavy pay can hold
And heavy pay requires a private shaft of gold
A shaft of gold requires much care and toil to save
A small house only I on earth will therefore crave

COMMENCEMENT AT SALEM.

SALEM, June 13, 1877

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

As a "Commencement correspondent" it doesn't come properly within our province to speak of Salem generally or to attack any of her salient points. It is easier to detect faults than cure them—to proffer advice than to apply it, but a sly prod now and then—such as the Salem dailies occasionally indulge in—is calculated to set the folks to thinking, and may prevent their degenerating into shiftless habits. It may be unpleasant and unkind and all that to say so, but nature has done more for Salem than anything or anybody else. Verily it ought not so to be. The first thing the folks ought to do is to mow down the rank grass which now so disfigures the "avenue," and to replant trees where old ones have died. Flour is $9 a barrel now, and if you must raise a crop you had better cut down the grass and sow it wheat. Then there's that poor old blind and disconsolate looking Goddess of Justice who keeps her perch so persistently on the dome of the court house and holds those scales with such a desperate and tenacious grip. She has turned her back on all railroad travel, on the University and the avenue, and the State Capitol and Mt. Hood and sunrise and sunset lovingly over the water works and old Lancaster House in preference. Won't some kind angel in the guise of an architect face her majesty about and bring her forward either to the center or what is more properly the front end of the structure. May be a change of scene would induce her to attend more strictly to business hereafter. Then your woolen mills have gone up in flame and smoke. Do you intend to allow Albany to subsidize all your capital and secure the location there of every valuable enterprise as she has in the past? What made you replace the old steam ferry with a rope and scow? Why don't you apply the "Agricultural Works" to the use for which they were intended, or something better? Why don't you levy a tax of $50,000, as the Legislature empowered you to do, and build a bridge across the Willamette? Why don't you offer inducements to capitalists to come here? and utilize one of the best water powers in the world and make this what it ought to be, the largest manufacturing town on the coast? Times are hard and money is scarce—but won't this policy make it continually scarcer? You needn't answer these conundrums for two weeks, and you know you can't resent them as you might if it were an interloper or "blasted furriner," instead of a friend who asked them. "Now for commencement." The graduating exercises of the

Of the University took place in the chapel last evening, before an audience filling the room to its utmost capacity. Dr. D. Payton, dean of the medical faculty, presided. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Aurora Band, which is sufficient of itself to indicate that it was the very best. The exercises proper opened with prayer by Rev. C. V. Anthony, after which Dr. Wm. H. Watkinds, of Portland, was introduced and delivered the annual address, a production full of the choicest thoughts. He referred at some length to the fact that originally the vocation of the priest and physician were identical, and commented approvingly upon the propriety of this. The first medical publication, indeed, issued in New England was written by Thos. Thatcher, a prominent clergyman of Boston, and one of the most highly prized medical treatises of that day, was written by Cotton Mather. Medicine, said the speaker, everywhere deserved recognition won by hard service. Her discoveries were not second in importance to those made in other fields of science, and what had been accomplished was almost wholly due to the study and researches of regular practitioners. Little had been accomplished except by hard work and educated effort. The pathway of the profession is strewn with the wreck of theories, and this should be accepted as a warning against mere experimenting. The places we tread are holy, and we must proceed with cautious step, and always give preference to well worn remedies. Medicine is not surpassed as a field for exploration. It has really become one of the exact sciences. Diseases are not now confounded as in the early days of the profession, and the ability of the skillful physician to make the most exact diagnosis of diseases affecting the internal organism of man is little less than marvelous." The numerous discoveries of regular medicine were referred to, and merited tributes were paid to the names of Harvey and Jenner and Sir Charles Bell and others. Before the discovery of cinchona, ague was known as a dangerous and fatal malady, and Oliver Cromwell and many of the nobility had died from its effects. How the diseases and deaths of infants was of much more infrequent occurrence than formerly, and the longevity of man was greatly increased. True, the profession had learned much from charlatanry and even in the rise of homeopathy, and nature was now often allowed to pursue its own course where formerly it was not, but the beneficial effects referred to were almost wholly due to newly discovered remedies. In closing, the speaker warned the graduates that their profession was not likely to instre them great fame or riches, and that their path was not always to be a pleasant one, yet it had its attractions. "Dame Rumor fled Apollo's presence when she learned he was a doctor. At this day she might have married him or become a doctor herself for the profession, with all its trials, is sweetened with pleasures which others know not of, and after an experience in practice of 25 years, we can think of no higher epitaph to carve than that of being remembered as a Christian man and a good physician." The address of Dr. Watkins was followed by the charge to the graduating class, delivered by Philip Harvey, A. M., M. D., late of the medical department of the Iowa State University. He welcomed the class to the brotherhood of medicine in the most cordial terms, and exhorted them to be patient and vigilant and honorable in the practice of the profession, assuring them that there was no crime of greater blackness than the betrayal of professional confidence. "Even the stern voice of justice has no right to call forth professional secrets. The public should demand ordinary skill and diligence in every profession, and without confidence between man and man the social state ceases to exist. But the truth is not to be spoken at all times, and one often has a right to use artifice and to some extent deceit. The physician must preserve his reputation for veracity, and must not prate to each one." He should never assume to know what he doesn't know, or always promise to cure, or make visits and write prescriptions where the circumstances do not demand." The theories of the speaker upon these points were eminently practical, though they differ somewhat from the views of Wayland and some other writers on moral science. The charge closed with some complimentary allusions to the class and to the fact, that it contained two ladies. To the latter fact the speaker devoted considerable attention, noting its infrequent occurrence, recounting the struggles by which such things had usually become possible and congratulating womankind and the world that the old forbidding barriers had finally been broken down. The charge was followed by the conferring of degrees by President T. M. Gatch upon the class—a list of which was sent you yesterday. After the literary exercises the whole medical fraternity now present in Salem repaired to the Chemeketa which was most profusely and tastefully decorated for the occasion. Aside from the attractions of flowers and evergreens banners and transparencies and the musical twitter of four or five dozen canaries, there was an abundance of good things to "cloy the hungry edge of the appetite." At least 200 guests were in attendance and they were entertained until far past the hour of midnight with regular and volunteer toasts and responses, and from the various members of the profession, and by Messrs. Mallory, Odell, Rev. C. V. Anthony and others among the invited guests.

SHE IS WAITING.

A well-to-do widow living in the northern part of the city has during the past winter depended solely upon the sun to clear her walks of snow, and boys with snow shovels and policemen with notices have failed to alter her programme. Yesterday morning after the big storm there was a drift a foot deep in front of her house, and a boy with innocent blue eyes and flaxen hair rang the bell and brought her down the hall at a trot.

"Does the Widder —— live here?" he asked, as she opened the door.

She said she was the person named, and he continued:

"You've been awful good to us poor folks this winter, and a man over from Woodward avenue to say that there's the nicest sort of a man in a drug store asking about you."

"About me?"

"Yes'm. He's got a big gold watch, and diamonds, and a plug hat and a gold-headed cane, and I heard him ask the clerk if you were married yet."

"He did?"

"Yes'm, and when the clerk told him no, he asked for the number of your house, and I heard him say something about old love—graves—recollections—big house on Fifth avenue, New York and he sighed. I believe he's coming over here."

"Who can it be—who can it be?" she mused.

"Hain't the least idea. He doesn't look as if he was used to wading through the snow, and I thought I'd slip over and clean off your walks."

"Yes—ah—of—course—wait a minute, bub."

She ran and got a silver quarter, patted him on the head and went in to get on her best clothes. She didn't see the boy any more, and at 5 o'clock in the afternoon she was still looking over to and the avenue, her optics having a tired expression and her nose a weary pose. Boys shouldn't be up to such tricks. If it isn't downright lying it is deception in the second degree, and it upsets household arrangements for a whole day.—Detroit Free Press.

In local monetary matters there is nothing new or unusual to report, the market moving on quietly in the same channel from day to day, and, indeed, from week to week, so that a description of the situation yesterday or last week would be applicable to the present condition. The city banks and other institutions of capital are reported to be in possession of abundant funds to meet the current demand for legitimate purposes. The absence of any excessive speculative spirit in the community, and the ordinary branches of trade are not the source of any great or unusual demand at this season of the year. Taking all things into consideration, the local financial situation may be regarded as a favorable one for an extensive and fairly prosperous season's business during the fall months.

General trade matters this week are tolerably active, and seasonable goods are being placed in considerable volume with no important fluctuation in quotations.

The home produce market is devoid of anything of an exciting nature, and dealers, though moving cautiously, are taking staple commodities freely at current rates. Perishable products are abundant, and especially some kinds of fruits are very low in price, while the staples, such as provisions, wool and breadstuffs, are much more readily placed. There is much complaint this summer of the condition in which many lots of eggs are sent to market. Wool is now coming forward very freely, but prices, though very firm, are not marked up.

New York Freights and Markets.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

NEW YORK, June 13.—Pacific coast freights, via Cape Horn, continue dull, and there is nothing of interest to ships. Rates for freight are unchanged, although weak. Suitable ships for this trade are more plenty, now that owners fail to get remunerative transatlantic freights, and they are more willing to accept offers. Agents' latest engagement is the Ocean King 3,160 tons, Sutton's line. It is reported that serious complications between consignees of cargo underwriters, and owners of the ship Blue Jacket, belonging to the Bellingham Bay Company, and which arrived at this port May 10th, are likely to arise, in connection with her late voyage from San Francisco to New York, and that legal proceedings involving a large amount have already been taken against the ship. It is understood that the ship has been libeled in the sum of $25,000, and that bonds for that amount have been furnished, also that another consignee has instructed his attorney to commence proceedings for an additional amount of twelve thousand dollars, owing to the damaged condition of the barley on arrival here, it being found totally unfit for malting purposes and the ship being held responsible.

Merchandise markets generally quiet. Flour quiet and unchanged, buyers and sellers too far apart in views to trade freely. Wheat quiet and closed 1@2c lower. Pork dull, weak, lower $13 80@13 90. Rio coffee more active, holders asking full figures. Refined sugars dull, irregular, lots unchanged. Hides quiet, no dem firm, sales 1 500 Pacific coast, private, quoted 21½. Wool shows a slight improvement; spring California meets most favor, receipts do not accumulate and prices show improvement, sales 100 000 lbs new spring, 21½@25, 67,000 lbs fall 16½@20.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, June 13.—Wool firm, fleece scarce, prices range from 40 to 43c for Ohio and Pennsylvania, including all grades; 37@40c for Michigan, Wisconsin and Newport, super and X pulled in fair demand at 30@35c, spring California in demand, sales mostly 25@32c; for good choice fancy at 33@34c.

WONDERFUL SUCCESS

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

In the Treatment of Chronic Disease.

Positive Proof of his Wonderful Skill.

Testimony that Cannot be Contradicted.

Reliable Witnesses Testifying What he has Done for Them.

Perfect Cures where all other Treatment had Failed.

Crowds Coming from all Parts of the County to Visit Him.

The Following Certificates Speak for Themselves:

TO DR PAUL M BRENAN—

For the past year and a half I have been suffering from Nervous and General Debility, Kidney Disease, Loss of Flesh and Strength, dizziness in the head and a constant pain through the back and loins. I became so debilitated and broken down that I was unfitted for business. I have been to Victoria and all over the coast under medical treatment for the past nine months, without receiving any benefit whatever, and had almost given up hopes of ever recovering, until I came under your treatment, about seven weeks ago. From the very first your treatment seemed to work like a charm, and I constantly improved from the beginning. I have gained 14 pounds of flesh, and I am now, thanks to your skillful treatment, perfectly well and am able to return to my business on the Snohomish.

JAMES KING.

Seattle, March 31, 1877.

To the People—I have been troubled with chronic Nasal Catarrh for years, the disease being so aggravated that there was constantly an effusion of matter passing down into my throat behind the palate and down through my nostrils.

My nose became depressed between the eyes and swollen on each side. I was told by physicians that it was a polypus, that some of the blood vessels were involved, and that the removal would endanger my life by hemorrhage. I became so bad that I made up my mind that I must have immediate relief or die.

As a last resort I applied to Dr. Paul M. Brenan who, after a moment's examination, determined what to do. He said the nasal bone was involved and diseased, and that there would have to be a portion of it removed. He at once removed the bone tumor containing the ulcer, also the diseased portion of bone and paticatory gland and cured the catarrh. I am now perfectly well and as free from disease as ever I was in my life.

THOMAS D. MURPHY

Seattle, April 5th, 1877.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN—Dear Sir—I take great pleasure in stating for the benefit of those who are afflicted with any chronic disease that I am now a well man. For the past two years I have been under the medical treatment of different physicians from which I have received no benefit. I have been suffering with general and nervous debility, a difficulty in my stomach, and at times dizziness and severe headache, almost incapacitating me for work. About three weeks ago I put myself under your care, and I can say with delight that I am cured and feel like myself again, after having partaken of your skillful treatment. To me now, labor seems a pleasure. I say this much, hoping it will be the means of attracting the suffering to you who can relieve and cure them.

Yours Truly, JOHN BALLARD,

Employed at Colman's Saw Mill, Seattle.

I will not publish any cures performed by me unless by the full consent of the parties.
